John Adkins Named New City Solicitor

By SUE BOYER
Herald Staff Writer

John R. Adkins, a young attorney who returned to his hometown last summer, was named solicitor for the city of Circleville Tuesday night. Adkins said he sought the job for several reasons one of which was the desire to offer Circleville a solicitor who is a resident of the area and therefore aware of the local problems.

City Councilmen voted unanimously to appoint Adkins to the position. Adkins had himself asked Mayor Frank Barnhill that he be appointed to the position rather than be contracted as the past solicitors had been.

Adkins succeeds William Duckworth and William Stevenson to the position. The two attorneys who have served as the city's legal counsel for the past three years were residents of Canal Winchester and practiced both there and in Columbus.

Upon being appointed to the position, the new city solicitor said there were really two aspects of the prosecutor's job, criminal and civil. He continued that a solicitor needed to be in contact with all three local law enforcement agencies in order to be able to represent the local citizenry as they should be represented. He said also that these three agencies, the sheriff's department, police department and State Highway Patrol, needed someone else at hand to help with the preparation of cases.

The laws which govern the position of city solicitor include two very important factors. The man appointed must be both a practicing attorney and also an elector.

Adkins said he first learned of the need for a local city solicitor while he was serving as defense counsel. He said then he realized the citizens of the Circleville area require a certain commitment from the local bar association.

He said another problem facing not only the city prosecutor's job but also many other city governmental offices is that they are regarded as part-time positions. The new prosecutor elaborated on that theme by saying this simply should not be the idea because Circleville is not a part-time community.

The prosecutor's job will offer a different challenge to him, Adkins said. He commented that this would be the first time he has ever sat on the prosecutor's side except for a student honor court in law school.

JOHN R. ADKINS

He said the most important thing for a prosecutor to keep in mind is that there are both the rights of the citizens and the rights of the defendant at stake in any hearing.

State law only provides for $300 for legal defense for an indigent person coming to trial, according to the solicitor. He said on the other hand the prosecution has all the agencies of the state at its disposal.

It is the job of the prosecutor to make the decision on how the defendant is to be charged. Adkins pointed out that plea bargaining was a very real part of the legal world. He said often a prosecutor will over charge the defendant so that he will have bargaining power with the defense attorney when the case is readied for trial.

He cited both advantages and disadvantages to both sides of the situation. One of the reasons he believes it should be eliminated is the cost factor. He said if the defendant is not over charged initially, the defense attorney can then begin his case by defending only those actions which are close to the case.

The new solicitor was born and raised in Circleville. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Adkins, 238 E. Main St. While his father is a real estate broker, his mother, Virginia, is a case work supervisor with the Children's Services.

Adkins' wife Dianne is also a native of the area. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Burton. The Adkinses (Continued on Page 24)

Gilligan Urges Spending

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan made his final appearance before the Ohio General Assembly Tuesday night, proposing a budget he'll never get to push.

The Democratic governor leaves office Monday, and the budget the legislature will be working with must come from Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes, a Republican, by March 15.

Gilligan, however, fulfilled his legal requirement by offering his proposed spending program. It calls for increased general fund spending of $1.5 billion for the two years beginning July 1, 1975.

Several seats were vacant as Gilligan strode into the House chamber to give his "state of the state" message for the final time.

A packed gallery, many of them state employees, gave him a standing ovation as he was escorted into the chamber to give the 30-minute prepared speech. It was telecast over a public television network.

The suggested budget called for increased spending in welfare, education and medical care and brought an expected reaction from Republicans.

House Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg, noted that Gilligan wouldn't be around when a new budget is adopted.

"I think it's a reflection of arrogance asking us to adopt it," said Kurfess. Democrats, however, thought it was a good speech. Senate President Pro Tem Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, called it "pleasing."

Gilligan, near the end of his talk, plugged for some partisan issues now pending before the Democratic-controlled legislature, including redrawing of congressional boundaries, changes in voter registration procedures and collective bargaining rights for public employees.

State Patrol Recovers Stolen Car

The Circleville Post of the State Highway Patrol recorded its first stolen car recovery Tuesday. The local post reports a total of 16 stolen vehicles were recovered by its officers during 1974.

Ptl. Michael Everhart was on routine patrol on Route 1-71 two miles south of Columbus Tuesday when he spotted a vehicle stopped along the berm of the highway. The patrolman stopped his cruiser and checked the license number of the car with the National Crime Center in Washington, D. C.

A spokesman for the Highway Patrol said such a check takes less than half a minute to complete. The patrolman radios the local dispatcher from his cruiser and the dispatcher then sends the number to the NCC by way of teletype and receives an answer in a matter of seconds.

When the report on the vehicle came back positive, Ptl. Everhart apprehended the driver who was reportedly sitting behind the wheel. John C. Hughes from Lafayette, Ind. told the officer he had "borrowed the car from a friend."

Owner of the car, Alvin Burkhardt also from Lafayette, Ind., reported to the Lafayette Police Department Monday that his car had been stolen. The officer did not determine if the car had actually been taken by Hughes or the "friend".

Hughes is being held by the Columbus authorities pending extradition by the Lafayette Police Department.

ROUNDTOWN

THE Pickaway County Health Department today reminded city restaurant operators they must secure their food service licenses before Jan. 20 at the health department, 705 S. Court St.

The outgoing governor suggested the general fund budget be upped from the current $5 billion to $6.5 billion for the next biennium. The all-funds state budget, under which the state is now operating, is $10.1 billion.

Gilligan suggested the state raise its share of spending for schools to 46 per cent, bringing the total figure up to $1.3 billion by the end of the biennium.

"Ohio today is still one of the wealthiest and most powerful state in the wealthiest nation the world has ever seen," he told the legislators.

"And yet in 1970, a little more than four years ago," he said, "a minuscule proportion of these resources was being employed to solve the shared problems of our people."

Gilligan reviewed what he has said his administration has done in such areas as mental health and education, noting that spending for primary and secondary education jumped from $575 million in fiscal 1971 to $1.1 billion in the current budget.

Noting the state of the national economy, he suggested a 25 per cent increase in welfare and extension of unemployment compensation benefits from 26 to 39 weeks.

He asked that the average welfare recipient payment be boosted from $53.50 a month to $67, "with full recognition of the fact that even such an increase as this is pitifully inadequate, since these people are hit harder by cost inflation than any group in our society." Other proposals by Gilligan included:

—$13.7 million for a new maternal and child health care program.

—Freezing of student fees for another two years at state universities and expansion of the Ohio instructional grant program to a level seven times as large as it was four years ago.

—$4.65 million to provide home care for nearly 200,000 elderly Ohioans.

—An additional $376 million in property tax relief for the biennium. —$551 million to the mentally retarded, which would double spending in this category over four years ago.

—$2.2 million to train 8,500 emergency medical ambulance attendants and $5 million to encourage Ohio-trained physicians to remain in the state.

Gilligan said the spending proposals could be accomplished without changing the tax structure.

A Republican legislator, Rep. Robert E. Netzley, R-7 Laura, said the proposals, if adopted, would take "at least a $1 billion tax increase."

Circleville Council Approves 1975 Budget

Circleville City Council approved the budget for 1975 in its first meeting of the year Tuesday although the initial budget does not reflect proposed salary increases for city employees.

Council is negotiating with members of the Circleville Fire Department on wage increases and the results of these negotiations will affect the salary scale of all departments.

David Goldschmidt, chairman of council's finance committee, told council that additional funds required by salary increases could be appropriated when needed.

This year's appropriations from the general fund totaled $628,033.40 as compared to an appropriation of $526,343.23 a year ago.

The income tax revenue fund appropriation totaled $33,190 compared to $30,132.89 last year.

The street construction, maintenance and repair fund this year is $108,335 compared to $95,600 last year. The state highway improvement fund is $13,500 this year and was $16,500 last year.

The city permissive motor vehicle tax appropriation this year was in the amount of $98,000 over twice the amount appropriated last year, $48,000.

Capital improvement fund this year is $118,000 and last year was $116,200.

The waterworks operating fund this year is $371,650 compared to a 1974 appropriation of $249,256.95. The Sanitary sewer operating fund is $143,005 this year and was $122,083.95 a year ago.

In other action Tuesday, John Adkins was employed as the city's legal counsel for 1975. A local attorney, he replaces the firm of Duckworth and Stevenson of Canal Winchester. Mayor Frank Barnhill, in requesting the appointment, said the city has been provided excellent service by the Canal Winchester attorneys but felt it was proper to give the position to a local attorney now that one has shown interest.

Attorney James Kingsley had also requested to be considered for the position but withdrew his request in a letter read before council last night.

An ordinance appropriating $45,000 for construction of a third water well for the city was approved Tuesday. Construction bids were advertised and the firm of Layne Ohio Co., Columbus, submitted the low bid of $44,089.25. Public utilities director Charles Taylor

Ford Would Hike Gasoline Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has decided on an energy policy that deliberately increases gasoline prices to discourage demand but rejects direct fuel restrictions or rationing, an informed administration source says.

This source also said Tuesday that Ford has won the voluntary agreement of auto makers to improve gasoline mileage, but that he would not propose federal mileage standards or a horsepower tax.

However, Ford was expected to propose standards or tax credits to improve building insulation.

The administration's energy policy is to be made public later this month. Many of Ford's expected proposals would require congressional action, especially in imposing or easing taxes.

Ford was expected to stick to his goal of reducing oil demand by one million barrels a day by the end of this year and to select a target for limiting oil imports by 1985 to something between 10 and 20 per cent of U.S. demand, compared with the present 36 per cent.

But his energy policy was not expected to include a decision on stockpiling oil against the threat of sudden shortages, a subject to be studied further in the next several months.

The administration source said Ford has decided the outlines of the energy policy to be proposed in his State of the Union report and probably in a separate energy message. But his advisers were still debating how best to deal with the economic impact of the energy decisions.

The source said Ford was expected to propose: —A tariff of $3 per barrel on imported oil and a $3 excise tax on domestic oil, costing consumers some $18.6 billion a year at present demand levels. Such increases could raise the price of gasoline about 7½ cents a gallon and other petroleum products by various amounts.

—General tax reductions to send the money back to the public for spending on other goods or services.

—Removal of price controls from "old" oil brought into production by 1972, allowing its price to rise from $5.25 a barrel to prevailing levels, now around $11.

—The end of federal regulation over interstate prices of natural gas.

—A voluntary agreement by auto makers to improve gasoline mileage 40 per cent by 1979, bringing the average performance of 1980 models close to 20 miles a gallon, but not a federal mileage standard or a tax on vehicle weight or horsepower.

—Federal standards or tax credits for improving the insulation of buildings, with some sort of financial aid for insulating the homes of the poor.

—Stimulation of coal production, either through leasing of additional federal land or by enforcement of clauses in existing leases which require "due diligence" in mining the land. The administration would seek the easing of certain clean air standards to allow increased burning of coal.

Hijacker Captured In Britain

LONDON (AP) — Police at an airport north of London overpowered the hijacker of a British airliner, freed the five members of the plane crew unharmed and recovered $230,000 in ransom.

The only casualty Tuesday night was a steward who was bitten by a police dog.

The hijacker was to appear in court today. The police did not announce his identity but said he had "Arabic" features, was about 27 and had a mustache. The pilot said the gunman was an Arab student.

It was the first hijacking of a domestic British flight.

The young man commandeered the British Airways BAC111 as it was preparing to land at London's Heathrow Airport after a flight from Manchester.

He held stewardess Barbara Brindley at gunpoint and demanded: "Tell the captain I would like to go to Paris. I have nothing to live for and we must go there."

The pilot, Capt. Harry Lea, 53, radioed the hijacker was armed with a .32 caliber revolver and a canister filled with explosives. Police said later the gun was a realistic-looking toy and the canister contained no bomb.

When the plane landed at Heathrow, the hijacker allowed the 46 passengers to get off and demanded the money and a parachute. Troops and police ringed the plane.

Teachers Continue Walkouts In Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Teachers in two Ohio school systems continued picketing today in walkouts involving wage disputes.

The Columbus Board of Education obtained a limited restraining order Tuesday. The order bars teachers from obstructing school operations, from urging students to remain home and engaging in "acts of violence."

The restraining order came shortly before negotiators for both sides met in an effort to break the wage deadlock.

The board contends it cannot pay more than its original 4.1 per cent wage increase offer. Teachers have lowered their original demand from 14 to 12 per cent.

Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Jay C. Flowers scheduled a Saturday hearing on a request for an order to force teachers to return to work.

Judge Flowers said he did not issue a stronger ruling because both sides are still meeting and because there have been no incidents in the strike.

The judge ordered negotiators to keep him informed of progress made in the talks.

School board negotiator Charles C. Hall, said the board cannot increase its offer because of financial troubles.

"The board's expenditures in 1975 are going to exceed revenues by about $7 million to $8 million without any salary increase," Hall said. "And while we are hoping for increased state funding this summer the board can only take a measured risk against the measured increase."

Similar financial troubles beset Greenville where 128 of the city's 234 teachers remained off the job a second day to protest a freeze on salary increases negotiated last year.

The Greenville Board of Education announced the salary freeze and cutbacks in personnel and school programs after a tax accountant advised them the system would be $323,000 in debt by the end of 1975.

The board said it could not meet provisions of a contract negotiated last summer. The contract had promised teachers a 2.8 per cent pay hike.

Schools have remained open throughout both strikes.

Tuesday, Columbus Supt. John Ellis said 32 per cent of the system's total enrollment attended classes and 35 per cent of the teachers reported for work.

Greenville Supt. Everett Potts said about 80 per cent of the system's 4,500 children enrolled were in class Monday. No figures were available for Tuesday.

Classes are being taught by non-striking teachers, nonteaching personnel and volunteers, Potts said.

authorizing door-to-door and mail registration of voters.

Over Republican protests, the two chambers expect to exchange bills late in the day, allowing each two days to complete legislative action on the six proposals, which Democrats hope will go to Gov. John J. Gilligan for signing into law before he leaves office Monday.

All six measures cleared their respective committees in the Democrat-controlled legislature Tuesday without picking up one Republican vote.

GOP lawmakers still hope the majority party will run afoul of procedural or constitutional rules, and Senate Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, admitted that "it could happen."

Ocasek was asked about a new Senate rule, adopted by Democrats Monday, that would permit Ocasek—rather than GOP Lt. Gov. John W. Brown—to sign legislative enactments before they go to the governor.

Brown's term, like Gilligan's, extended a week longer than those of GOP lawmakers who surrendered control of the legislature to Democrats Jan. 6.

The Senate leader acknowledged he was concerned about GOP threats of legal action if Ocasek, rather than Brown, signs the controversial bills.

He said he has not decided if he will sign them if Brown refuses.

"I don't want to cross that bridge until I get to it," he said.

However, Ocasek asserted that the Ohio Constitution requires Brown, as presiding officer of the Senate, to sign enactments.

"It says he shall sign them. John Brown is an honorable man, and I have no reason to believe that he will not carry out his duty," Ocasek said.

Brown and other Republicans were mum on their strategy. However, they served notice earlier that if Ocasek signs the measure they will seek to have the legislation invalidated in the courts.

Sen. Thomas A. Van Meter, R-19 Ashland, and others already have filed formal protests in the clerk's offices which they said will be the basis for court suits if the bills are signed by Ocasek.

Meanwhile, Democrats continued to defend their actions in the wake of some editorials deploring this week's partisan legislative activity.

Sen. Donald Woodland, D-16 Columbus, chairman of the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee, brushed aside GOP blasts at a provision in the unemployment compensation bill that would qualify workers, idled by a strike at another plant or in another state, for jobless pay.

They deserve to receive compensation, he said, because they were idled "through no fault of their own."

Woodland cited the recent United Mine Workers' strike that resulted in layoffs by coalusing steel industries in northeastern Ohio.

"That's a classic example," he said.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed today in a pause from its rally of the past several sessions.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 2.34 at 638.85, while gains maintained a 3-2 lead over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts noted that the market often encounters resistance from internal technical forces after a sharp rally like the one it has staged since New Year's Eve.

Polaroid was the most active issue on the Big Board, down 1 1/4 at 15 3/4.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index rose .10 to 64.16.

House Sets Vote On Controversial Remap Measure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A vote is set for today on the House floor on a controversial bill to redraw Ohio's 23 congressional districts along lines more favorable to Democratic candidates.

A floor vote on the Equal Representation Act was assured Tuesday night when the House State Government Committee voted the bill out 12-7 along strict party lines after bitter partisan exchanges. Passage on the floor, again along party lines, is considered probable, barring last minute foudlups.

Rep. Alan E. Norris, R-27 Westerville, complained that Republican committee members had not been provided with the proposed map and had been deprived of opportunity to debate the bill.

"You've got the votes," Norris shouted at Democratic Chairman Michael Del Bane, D-56 Hubbard, "you don't have to gag us."

"I have never seen the legislative process prostituted like it has been today," he added.

Norris criticized Democratic members for what he termed a "flippancy" attitude toward 20 or so witnesses, all of whom opposed the redistricting plan.

"These were real people," he said. Democrats hope to push the bill through this week while lame duck Gov. John J. Gilligan is still in office and can sign it into law. Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes will be sworn in on Jan. 13.

Democrats control the House 59-40 and the Senate 21-12.

Norris filed a protest after he was said the contract will be awarded to the firm. A construction deadline of four months will be included in the contract Taylor said. He pointed out the additional well is needed since the state has recommended the well gallery at the old water plant be discontinued. The new well will have a capacity of two million gallons a day.

Council approved an ordinance rezoning a 71.05 acre tract of land from R-2 residential to R-3 residential, permitting the developer to plat smaller lot sizes. The tract is the Bowers-Goodchild property located at the intersection of Dunkle Road and Walnut Creek Pike.

Rezoning of a 9.730 tract of land at the Morris Road-Atwater Ave. area from R-3 residential to AR-1 to permit construction of apartments was held for another reading. Residents of the area have voiced objection to the proposed rezoning and for this reason Councilman Tom Wells requested the additional reading to give the city fathers more time to study the proposed rezoning.

An ordinance to license food service establishments not covered by restaurant licensing ordinance was tabled when it was suggested by Frank Barnhill that some changes should be made since the city is now contracting with the county health department for health services and inspections.

An ordinance was passed permitting Mayor Frank Barnhill to negotiate a lease for city owned equipment needed by the county health department.

Service Director Atwood Jones reminded council members of the planning and zoning hearing scheduled 8 p.m. Thursday to hear the proposed rezoning of the Replogle land along Nicholas Drive.

Fire Chief Glen Jones reported all fire hydrants in the city have been repaired to two fire extinguishers for magnesium type fires were ordered. He noted that many automobiles and trucks now had magnesium parts and when this metal ignites it is impossible to extinguish with conventional methods.

Jones also reported that the three newest men on the department will be enrolled in fire school as soon as possible. The new air compressor recently purchased by the city to fill air breathing apparatus will be operational by the end of the week. The city firemen made 117 runs in the city in 1974 and 20 in the township. Property loss in the city fires was estimated at $256,000 and in the township fires at $18,550.

South Viet Planes Hit Red Base

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Waves of South Vietnamese planes attacked the Viet Cong headquarters at Loc Ninh and nearby Communist areas in retaliation for the loss of the capital of Phuoc Long province, the Saigon command announced today.

F5 fighter-bombers raided troop concentrations, antiaircraft positions, ammunition dumps and supply centers in the Communist zones below the Cambodian border north of Saigon Tuesday night and today, and pilots reported ammunition explosions that sent smoke 3,000 feet into the air, a command spokesman said.

cut off by majority members when he was three minutes into a statement criticizing the bill and a ban on open committee debate.

Several Republican committee members testified as witnesses, but Democrats cut off debate in their haste to report the bill back to the House floor.

Earlier, Norris, who sat with a yellow toy steamroller on his desk, almost succeeded in a delaying tactic by forcing a vote on adjournment while a number of Democrats were out of the room.

Democratic legislators were quickly summoned and the move narrowly failed, assuring that the bill would be voted out on schedule.

Democrats insist that the 15-8 Republican majority in the Ohio congressional delegation does not accurately reflect the proportion of Democratic voters.

The new Democratic map would bunch together Republican congressmen in three different districts and create several new districts favorable to Democratic candidates.

The 1st and 2nd districts in Hamilton County would be reshaped from east-west lines into a Cincinnati district, including a couple of densely-populated suburbs, and an outer Hamilton County district.

Rep. Willis Gradison would find himself in an urban district with a distinctly Democratic flavor while Rep. Donald Clancy would remain in safe Republican territory.

Reps. Chalmers Wylie and Sam Devine, both Republicans, would find themselves in a redrawn Franklin County district tailored for a Democratic candidate.

Reps. Clarence J. Brown of Urbana and Tennyson Guyer of Findlay, would both be in a new 7th District with a vacancy created in a redrawn 4th District northwest of Dayton.

An adjusted 3rd District in Dayton would become vacant with Rep. Charles Whalen's Oakwood residence placed in the 8th District with Rep. Thomas Kindness.

There is no legal reason why Whalen, or any other candidate could not run in his old district, but the Democrats think the new lines will be more favorable to their candidates because of party registration within the new lines.

Navy Force Heads For Indian Ocean

WASHINGTON (AP) — A powerful Navy carrier task force sailed toward the Indian Ocean today as rumblings persist over Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's implied warning of possible U.S. military action in a grave oil emergency.

The six-ship task force, led by the 85,000-ton nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise, was expected to enter the Indian Ocean within a few days after a voyage from the U.S. 7th Fleet base in Subic Bay, the Philippines.

The Pentagon acknowledged the Enterprise's sailing but declined to identify its destination. However, sources said the carrier, the nuclear-propelled guided missile cruiser Long Beach, two destroyers, a supply ship and an oiler were bound for the Indian Ocean.

Pentagon spokesman William Beecher said Tuesday the task force was on an operational mission but he denied reports it was bound for waters off South Vietnam, where government troops have been reeling under Communist attack.

The White House affirmed the Pentagon statement. At the same time, President Ford was described as watching developments in South Vietnam closely.

Congress has banned any U.S. bombing or other military action in Indochina. Any such move would require prior congressional approval, officials agreed.

In Honolulu, Adm. Noel Gayler, commander of U.S. military forces in the Pacific, said it was "difficult to imagine" any circumstances under which American troops would be sent back to Vietnam.

Speaking on the NBC-TV "Today Show" to be broadcast Thursday, Gayler said the possible fall of the Thieu regime—or any regime in South Vietnam would not be circumstances for intervention by U.S. troops.

Defense sources insisted no show of force was intended in the voyage of the Enterprise group through the South China Sea. These sources indicated the task force would come no closer than about 350 miles from the South Vietnamese coast.

Pentagon officials said the impending month-long Indian Ocean cruise of the Enterprise with its 80 warplanes had been planned for weeks. The six ships will replace another task force headed by the carrier Constellation, which left the Indian Ocean about a month ago.

The United States has been rotating naval groups in and out of the Indian Ocean on a fairly regular basis since late 1973, following the Mideast war.

Vocational Board Elects Officers

The Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational Board met Tuesday evening for its organizational meeting and elected officers for 1975. Replacing Nelson Stevens as president of the board of education is Homer W. Beath. Eldon Shoemaker was elected vice-president.

The board also established the date, time and place for the regular board meetings for the year. The meetings will convene on the third Thursday of each month at 8 p.m. at the vocational center.

Clerk-treasurer Mary E. McWhorter was re-appointed and given a four-year contract. The next meeting of the board will be Jan. 16.

7-Year-Old Boy Struck By Auto

Seven-year-old Gregory P. Pence, 233 E. Mill St., is listed in fair condition at Children's Hospital with a broken arm sustained in an accident, 5:44 p.m. Saturday.

According to the report taken by Circleville Ptl. Jim Francis, Brenda S. Jasper, 17, 221 3rd Ave., was driving south on Washington Street near Mill Street when she saw the Pence boy standing on the side of the street.

As the auto neared him, Pence began running across the street into the path of the Jasper vehicle.

Ms. Jasper applied her brakes and swerved to miss the youth but was unsuccessful.

No citation was issued.

Witness Links Kroger To Auto

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A car salesman was the latest witness Tuesday to identify Clifford Kroger as the man who purchased a car later linked to the Sept. 23 kidnaping of 4-year-old Allison Mechem.

Kroger, of Winter Park, Fla., is charged with kidnaping and seeking a $128,000 ransom.

Car salesman William Mafe testified that he sold Kroger a blue car on Sept. 20, three days before the broadcasting executive's daughter was snatched from in front of her home.

The girl was found unharmed 24 hours later in a nearby motel. Mafe said he recalled Kroger because the two had spent two and a half hours chatting before the sale was made.

Mafe said he was reprimanded by his superiors "for spending so much time with him."

Mafe described Kroger as being dressed in new clothes "too big for him—his pants were doubled over."

Kroger, 38, formerly lived in a Cincinnati suburb near the Mechem residence.

A Cincinnati detective, Tom Gardner, testified that he confronted Kroger at his home in Florida several days after the kidnaping.

"Let's talk about the Bengals," Kroger responded each time he was questioned about the abduction, Gardner testified. The Bengals are Cincinnati's National Football League team.

Soybean Vote Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some 55,000 Ohio soybean producers will get a second chance March 3-5 to vote on a proposed soybean marketing program.

M. David Urmston, assistant director of Ohio Department of Agriculture, announced the referendum Tuesday after reviewing testimony presented at a public hearing on Monday.

Urmston said a similar referendum failed last year because too few soybean producers took part but the testimony showed enough support to warrant another vote this year.

Ohio already operates marketing programs for beef, turkeys, apples and eggs.

Under the program, one-half cent per bushel would be checked off on all soybeans sold in Ohio. The money would be used to finance programs for foreign market development, promotion and research.

Heavier Trucks Get Federal OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A law allowing heavier trucks on the Interstate highway system was approved by the House in the final days of the 93rd Congress after a lobbying drive that included last-minute campaign contributions to 117 House members.

The measure was signed into law by President Ford on Saturday.

The law, approved by the Senate in September, was rejected by the House the first time around. But the House reversed itself in the closing days of the 93rd Congress and passed the bill about a month after the November elections.

The law permits an increase in gross weight from 73,280 pounds per truck to 80,000 pounds and allows states which permit heavier trucks on nonInterstate roads to allow those trucks on the Interstate system.

The trucking industry claims the larger truck loads are needed to offset the lowered speed limits imposed last year after the fuel shortage.

Industry spokesmen also say the higher weight limit will help offset losses resulting from higher fuel prices.

The American Trucking Association declined to say how much the industry spent on last-minute campaign contributions, saying the figure would be submitted to the clerk of the House of Representatives by Jan. 31 as required by law.

However, Bennett Whitlock, assistant to the association's president, said contributions from the trucking industry probably totalled less in 1974 than they did in 1972 because truckers' incomes have fallen off.

Records on file with the House show that the Truck Operators Nonpartisan Committee (TON) made seven contributions ranging from $500 to $1,500 in the three months before Oct. 24, the last report day before the November elections. Another report, filed Nov. 11, showed the industry supported 117 other candidates for the House in the November elections.

U.S. Ponders Viet Strategy As Reds Continue Offensive

WASHINGTON (AP) — High U.S. officials are considering what steps can be taken to bolster support for South Vietnam in the face of the current Communist offensive which the officials expect will intensify.

According to intelligence estimates here, the North Vietnamese-Viet Cong strategy is to force a coalition government in Saigon that the Communist forces could dominate.

Information received from the field indicates that the North Vietnamese are attempting to overthrow the pacification effort in South Vietnam and re-establish themselves in the countryside, according to analysts.

The Viet Cong are said to be seeking a population base and are carrying out a policy of accelerated attrition against the South Vietnamese armed forces, according to intelligence estimates.

U.S. officials say Communist documents captured in Vietnam indicate the offensive will be intensified in the coming weeks.

These documents reportedly show that four new North Vietnamese divisions recently have been created and manned with independent regiments. The North Vietnamese have retained their strategic reserve of seven divisions in the north, U.S. officials say.

According to authoritative sources, the National Security Council is considering the issues in South Vietnam and what the U.S. should do about it.

According to information received here, Communist troops in South Vietnam exceed 300,000 including 225,000 North Vietnamese and 75,000 Viet Cong. These figures compare with about 220,000 Communist troops at the time the Paris peace agreement was signed Jan. 27, 1973.

That pact allows the United States to provide one-for-one replacement of weapons expended. But according to U.S. officials, the $700 million military aid appropriation for 1975 will not replace capital equipment such as tanks, trucks and aircraft. These funds instead will be spent for consumables, such things as ammunition, medical supplies, spare parts, petroleum, oil and lubricants.

American officials say the South Vietnamese could get by without receiving one-for-one replacements before the current offensive but no longer can do so.

The performance of the South Vietnamese forces is receiving good marks here. But the levelling off of American assistance has had an effect on mobility because of tight supplies of ammunition, gasoline, artillery and air support.

Population Trend Holds

Along with ringing in the new year, the U.S. Census Bureau moved its population clock ahead by 1.6 million notches. That is how many additional people the bureau estimates joined the U.S. population in 1974, allowing for births, deaths, immigration and emigration.

That brings the grand total to 213,203,059 by bureau estimates. The 1974 gain is about the same recorded for the past two years, holding steady on an annual gain of about 0.7 per cent.

A population increase of that percentage is small compared with historical trends. That it is holding at the lower level indicates a new population chapter in the United States.

Today's highlight in history:

In 1815, U.S. forces under General Andrew Jackson defeated the British in the Battle of New Orleans. The battle was the closing engagement in the War of 1812.

In 1918, President Woodrow Wilson outlined 14 points for peace after World War One.

In 1923, France began the military occupation of the Ruhr Valley in Germany.

In 1959, Premier Charles de Gaulle became President of France.

In 1971, the United States apologized for a bomb explosion outside a Soviet cultural building in Washington.

Ten years ago: The Star of India sapphire and 23 other gems stolen from the American Museum of Natural History were returned to New York after being recovered from a bus station locker in Miami.

Five years ago: The United States and Mainland China agreed to resume diplomatic talks in Warsaw after a lapse of two years.

One year ago: Communist-led insurgents in Cambodia intensified their pressure on Phnom Penh with strikes north and south of the capital.

Sir-lous Honor

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — The Little Tramp is now Sir Charles. Sir Charles Chaplin. The 85-year-old genius, without question the greatest entertainer in history, was knighted by the British government on New Year's Day along with 93-year-old P. G. Wodehouse.

Chaplin and Wodehouse, whose combined ages would reach back to the reigns of George Washington and King George III, share a distinction beyond knighthood. Both became hotly controversial figures in times of national stress. Chaplin was virtually driven out of the United States in 1949 by the House Un-American Activities Committee; Wodehouse was damned in Britain for making several broadcasts from Berlin in 1941.

The charge against Chaplin was that he was pro-Communist. (Actually, he was mostly anti-Communist. Many Britons, hearing their treasured humorist's voice coming in on the same shortwave band as Lord Haw Haw's, denounced Wodehouse as a Nazi collaborator. (Actually, Wodehouse was a civilian POW and made his droll broadcasts at the request of CBS.)

Each has long since been exonerated. Chaplin made a triumphant visit to the U.S. from Switzerland two years ago to receive a special Oscar award. Wodehouse's image in now in wax at Madame Tussaud's and his books are again best-sellers. The announcement from London about their knighthoods found both of them gainfully employed. Chaplin is writing a film called "The Freak." Wodehouse, who lives on a Long Island dune, is banging out his 83rd or 84th novel. Nobody knows, including Sir Pelham.

Truest statement of 1974 was made in its final hours. Jim Hunter said as he signed his $3,750,000 Yankee contract, "I'm lucky by being in the right place at the right time."

Once upon a time, 1946 (the year Catfish was born), the entire Yankee team and its hallowed stadium and farm system was sold to Dan Topping, Del Webb and Larry MacPhail for $2,800,000. Inasmuch as the new owners found $600,000 in the Yankee bank account, to boot, the actual price was $2,200,000.

That team had some pretty good ballplayers: Allie Reynolds and Vic Raschi, 20-game winners, Yogi Berra behind the plate, Phil Rizzuto, Charlie Keller and, on yes, a pretty good 32-year-old center-fielder named Jo DiMaggio (who had been purchased from the San Francisco Seals ten years earlier for a whopping $25,000).

Walter Johnson once tried to jump from the Washington Senators to the Chicago club in the short-lived Federal League for a salary of $10,000 a year. He had been offered $6,000 by Washington. Seems he had won only 30 games the year before.

Wilbur Mills's announcement that some of his odd antics of late could be traced to the fact that he's an alcoholic won him considerable acclamation among his Arkansas constituents, and elsewhere. However, Toots Shor presented a dissenting opinion. Of the former most influential man in Congress, now a penitent Prohibitionist, Toots said: "As a drinker, that creep was amachoor night. He gave drunkenness a bad name."

If it's not one thing it's another. UPI sounds an alarm from Salt Lake City that the U.S. is losing the dinosaur race to the Soviet Union.

As of now, none of the Democratic hopefuls in next year's Presidential Sweepstakes has latched onto this as a lever to topple the Ford Administration. But who knows at this early date? John F. Kennedy's advisers did not come up with the intriguing missile gap gambit until relatively late in his campaign against Richard Nixon in 1960. There's nothing to prevent a latter-day Democrat from putting a dinosaur crisis to work for him.

If there is ever a crash program in this country to find the bones of bigger and better dinosaurs than have been dug up in Russia in recent times, we'd do well if we appointed as its director Mr. James Madsen, as assistant research professor at the University of Utah's department of geology and geophysics.

"The Russians, and even the Chinese and the Poles, are putting a lot of money in dinosaurs, while the wealthiest country in the world just doesn't care," he said recently, whacking his desk with a jawbone straight from the Mesozoic Era. His complaint is that Americans demand certain spin-off benefits from any expensive adventure into the sciences. For example, if we had not spent $2,000,000,000 developing the A-bomb, India wouldn't have one to test today. If we hadn't spent many times that amount overtaking the Russians in the space race, junior would not have gotten a pocket computer for Christmas.

Celeste Pushes Transit Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lt. Gov.-elect Richard F. Celeste proposed today that a $2 million state appropriation for mass transit be used to enable senior citizens to use public transportation for 10 cents a ride at all hours.

Celeste told a Department of Transportation hearing the funding could be used as a subsidy to local transit firms to fund the plan.

The state also favors dime fares for senior citizens but only during nonpeak riding hours.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

People who have chronic lung conditions such as asthma, emphysema, bronchitis and bronchiectasis find that they are more distressed when they walk rapidly against the wind.

This is similar to the discomfort that happens to people with heart disease, especially those who suffer from anginal pain.

A great deal of extra energy is consumed when walking against the wind. This places an extra burden on the heart and lungs and taxes their reserve strength.

The elderly, even in the absence of heart and lung conditions, may feel a sense of fatigue with the special exertion of walking in cold weather.

These same people may have a feeling of breathlessness and added pain over the chest after a particularly heavy meal. When the stomach is overloaded, more blood is brought to the stomach to aid in digestion.

In many instances, the heart muscle must work harder to pump the additional blood to the stomach. The heart muscle itself may be deprived of its own vital blood supply. Pain over the chest wall reflects the heart's plea for rest.

NEW YORK (AP) — Alan Greenspan isn't likely to make the same error as his predecessor in the job of chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. He is not going to be overly optimistic.

Herbert Stein, chairman under President Richard M. Nixon, dug himself into a deeper hole each month by contrasting the terrible economic news with what he claimed was an imminent improvement. He lost credibility.

Greenspan told the Joint Economic Committee that the outlook wasn't pleasant, wasn't reassuring and wasn't certain. Unemployment might reach 8 per cent, he said, and he suggested the second-half recovery wouldn't be sudden.

What Greenspan learned in watching the Washington scene from his desk at Townsend-Greenspan, a consulting firm, was that economic conditions today are all but unpredictable.

This might seem so elemental as to be obvious, but the fact is that hundreds of economists are following up their abysmal forecasts of a year ago by again attempting to look a full year into the future.

Last year they missed on prices, interest rates, unemployment and a dozen other forecast areas. Their counterparts on Wall Street forecast a Dow Jones industrial average anywhere from 400 to 1,000.

This year the consensus seems to be for a gradual recovery by summer, with interest rates falling a bit and the rate of inflation — but note, not prices — falling sharply.

Last year the economists complained that they were forced to evaluate too many factors beyond their comprehension: the impact of an oil embargo, drought and other meteorological phenomena, political maneuvers.

But this year, as Greenspan noted, there are factors involved about which economists are equally in the dark, the most important being the likelihood of substantial governmental moves against recession.

All forecasts made today are, therefore, accompanied by a substantial amount of ignorance and a considerable lack of information. And last year's results proved that either is sufficient to make a forecast almost useless.

Many economists concede that even when the facts are known, a forecast of beyond three months can plunge the forecaster into a dark void.

Many doctors recommend one of the many special heat masks that can be worn over the nose and mouth to protect against cold and wind.

Even unheated masks are beneficial and can alleviate the distress caused by the sharp bite of cold air.

At first, some people may be embarrassed to wear a mask. However, they will soon see that they are not alone. Their comfort is so great they soon overcome the first uneasy feelings.

Many middle-aged and elderly people spend months in the hospital because of fractured hips that might easily have been avoided.

In inclement weather, with rain, snow, slush and sleet, the added security provided by a cane can be tremendous. Tips of the cane should be made of nonskid material.

In addition, the so-called safety of the home should be carefully inspected for hidden sources of danger. Falls in the bathroom, skidding on slippery floors, tripping on toys or obstacles on the floor that should have been put away do not add to the safety of the elderly.

Pipeline Notes To Go On Sale

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Notes worth $150 million are to go on sale late this month to help finance the trans-Alaska pipeline, two subsidiaries of Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) and British Petroleum Co., Ltd., announced Monday.

Sohio-BP Trans Alaska Pipeline Finance Inc. was to register the proposed sale with the Securities and Exchange Commission, a joint announcement by Sohio Pipe Line Co. and BP Pipelines Inc. said.

The finance branch would relend the proceeds to the pipeline companies, the loans being guaranteed by the parent firms, the announcement said.

'Tecumseh!' Feast Planned

Plans are underway for the second annual gala "Tecumseh!" Ceremonial Feast and Charity Auction to be held Saturday, February 22, at the Chillicothe Elks Lodge.

"The event," according to an auction committee spokesman, "offers direct community support for the internationally famous drama, 'Tecumseh!' Auction contributions are already turning up, for instance, our workers in Circleville have a powder horn donated by a craftsman from Arizona." All contributions are tax deductible and can be made by contacting, Dr. John Redd or Mrs. Howard Wood in Chillicothe and Mrs. Don Miller or Mrs. Henry Swope in Circleville.

Work is also underway to streamline the seating of guests and the auctioning procedures. Immediate plans include a silent auction for smaller items and a greeting committee to assist with each guest's seating and meal arrangements.

Executive Caterers, who presented the exquisite cuisine last year, have again been employed for the feast. The cocktail hour will begin at 7 p.m. and dinner at 8 p.m. on the evening of Feb. 22. Black tie and formal dress are optional.

Helen Reddy Said Worst Dressed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Helen Reddy heads the list of 10 worst dressed women of 1974.

Mr. Blackwell, the designer who has been making the selections annually for 15 years, also unveiled Tuesday his list of the 10 best dressed women of the year.

"When I think someone looks rotten, it doesn't mean they don't have a good soul or that they aren't great entertainers," the designer said of his choice of Miss Reddy for the dubious distinction.

Mr. Blackwell picked actress Elizabeth Taylor as the worst of the worst dressed in the 15 years he has been making his selections public.

"There's just too many yards of flesh with too few inches of fabric," he said of Miss Taylor.

On the designer's top 10 of the worst dressed were Miss Reddy; Princess Elizabeth of Yugoslavia, fiancée of actor Richard Burton; Fanne Foxe, stripper friend of Rep. Wilbur Mills; Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., described as dressing for the 1940s; Cher Bono, who Mr. Blackwell said looks like a "Hawaiian bar mitzvah"; singer Charo, described as "Carmen Miranda with cleavage"; the Pointer sisters; Raquel Welch; Karen Valentine, and Sonia Rykiel, the first fashion designer to make the list.

Mr. Blackwell's best dressed list includes actresses Ann-Margret, Faye Dunaway and Natalie Wood; Rose Kennedy; Princess Grace of Monaco, and Mrs. Ronald Reagan, wife of the former California governor.

Kent State Dorm Policy Upheld

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Kent State University's policy of requiring freshmen and sophomore students to live in dormitories was upheld by U.S. District Judge William K. Thomas Tuesday.

The ruling came in a suit brought by Lawrence J. Schick, 19, and the Kent Interhall Council, an organization of students living in dorms.

The plaintiffs claimed that the housing policy violated their constitutional rights of equal protection because of the financial burden.

Judge Thomas said he was aware of the financial advantage to the school because of the policy, but he also noted that the policy does have educational value.

Bomb Blast Fatal To 3

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Police say a suitcase bomb apparently was responsible for the explosion in a Cleveland home late Tuesday night which killed three persons and left three others critically injured.

The explosion ripped apart a frame house in a middle class Polish neighborhood on the city's south side shortly before midnight.

Authorities at St. Alexis Hospital identified the dead as Maryanne Sigley, 21, her two-year-old son, Michael, and Burdell Offitt, 26.

Listed in critical condition today at Metropolitan General Hospital were nine-month old Steven Sigley; Deborah Slepko, 16, and her husband, John, 21.

According to police, Offitt told authorities shortly before he died that he had found a suitcase on the front porch of the house and had taken it inside, where it exploded seconds later.

The blast knocked the front and side walls of the house off their foundation and shattered windows in adjoining houses.

Capt. Gerald Holman of the Cleveland fire rescue squad said that all the dead and injured apparently were in the same room on the first floor of the house at the time of the explosion.

"When we got there Mrs. Slepko was lying outside and her husband was walking around in a daze," Holman said.

"The baby was crawling around. The others were under the rubble inside."

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS L. DAVIS

Miss Rebecca J. Patrick Bride Of Thomas L. Davis

United Methodist Church of Kingston was the setting for the marriage of Miss Rebecca J. Patrick and Mr. Thomas L. Davis. The Rev. Michael Wright performed the double ring ceremony 4:30 p.m., Dec. 21st for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Patrick of Kingston, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davis, Kingston.

Cascade arrangements of white pompons, red carnations and English holly enhanced the altar table flanked with candelabra with matching arrangements and clusters of red and avocado ribbons. A bank of red poinsettias was at the chancel rail and crystal candle holders decorated in red and green marked the pews.

A program of nuptial selections preceding the service was presented by Mr. William Russell, organist, and Mrs. William Russell, vocalist.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of ivory maracaine crepe. The empire bodice featured a wide sash, high neckline with cameo collar and tapered sleeves with self-covered buttons. The slightly gathered skirt flowed softly into a chapel train and the bride's floor length veil of silk illusion was caught to a pleated maracaine turban accented with seed pearls. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of red poinsettias, crimson carnations and English holly. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of her brother.

Maid of honor, Miss Susan Reichelderfer, Tarlton, wore a floor length maroon colored gown with an empire waist, long sleeves and round neckline, and a sash forming a bow at the back. She carried a colonial bouquet with holly and evergreen foliage.

Miss Kimberly Connoley and Miss Diane Ryan of Mansfield, and Miss Cathy Sharpnack, Columbus were bridesmaids. They were gowned as the honor attendant in dark green and carried matching bouquets.

Miss Robin Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Thomas, Thornville, and Miss Brook Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, Grove City, were flower girls. They carried white wicker baskets filled with flowers.

Ring bearer was Master Matthew Vollmar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Vollmar, Kingston.

Mr. Rick Whitten of Ashville served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Daniel Patrick, Mr. Daniel Davis, Mr. Daniel Vollmar and Mr. Michael Patrick of Kingston, and Mr. John Davis of Grove City.

The bride's mother was attired in a beige gown with an accordin pleated skirt. Her accessories were gold and she carried a small hand bouquet of pink roses and English holly.

The bridegroom's mother wore a rose floral chiffon gown with gold accessories and carried a small hand bouquet of garnet roses and English holly.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony, where 250 guests were entertained. The four tiered wedding cake was decorated with holly, red, pink and white carnations at the top and encircling the base.

Hostesses were Mrs. Daniel Davis, Mrs. David Thomas, Mrs. Lillian Pancake and Miss Amy Lyons. Miss Sally Pancake presided at the guest book.

As the couple left for a wedding trip to Oglebee Park, Wheeling, W. Va., the bride wore a green corduroy pant suit. They now reside at 46 E. South St., Apt. 40, Ashville.

The bride graduated from Logan Elm High School and is a junior at Riverside School of Nursing, Columbus.

The bridegroom graduated from Zane Trace High School and the Ohio State University in the Department of Natural Resources, and is a member of Delta Theta Sigma fraternity. He is employed as a Park Ranger at Deercreek State Park.

The rehearsal dinner hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Davis was held at the Gaslight, Inn, Chillicothe. Showers complimenting the bride recently were hosted by Miss Susan Reichelderfer, Mrs. John R. Davis, Mrs. Dan Davis and Mrs. Dwight Davis.

Next time you make an avocado dip you may want to try flavoring it with a little taco seasoning mix.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Overpopulators Unpopular

DEAR ABBY: You were much to easy on "Proud Mother" who was proud of the fact that "God" had given her 13 children. (Why blame God alone? Surely she had a husband.)

Proud Mother resented being criticized for the size of her family, saying she didn't ask anyone else to raise or feed them. If she is so proud of 13, perhaps she would be twice as proud of 26. Even if she quit with 13, consider the possibilities (and you will need a calculator) if each of her children multiplies at the same rate. In two generations she will have been responsible for 182 people!!! This number becomes significant when one considers the amount of food and gasoline they will consume in their lifetimes.

While the good lady has been busy making maximum use of God's gift of procreation, she's ignored God's additional gifts of reason based on accumulated knowledge.

Overpopulation and the exhaustion of unrenewable natural resources is everybody's business.

CONCERNED IN CALIF.

DEAR CONCERNED: You were not the only one who expressed concern over Proud Mother's attitude.

Briefly, since the world's resources are limited, we can't continue to provide for a population that daily produces 185,000 new mouths to feed.

'Human Fly' Captured

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A Cocoa Beach man described as "a human fly" was arrested after officers watched in amazement as he climbed six floors up a beachfront hotel wall and broke into several rooms, police say.

"It was unbelievable," a police spokesman said Monday. "You'd have to see it to believe it."

Police said Bruce Wesley Oliver, 25, was arrested early Sunday and charged with breaking and entering. Oliver was a suspect in at least 100 similar burglaries, said police spokesman Darrell Alley.

Ten officers, assigned to the stakeout after a rash of recent burglaries, were in foxholes dug in the beach when they saw a man scaling the hotel wall, Alley said.

"He'd latch on to anything he could get his fingers around, and then just pull himself up," Alley said. "They watched as he went up six stories that way, and broke into several rooms. He really could be called a human fly."

Alley said Oliver, about 5-foot-10 and "all muscle and bone," was being held on $7,500 bond.

Wild Pigs To Be Slain

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A herd of javelinas — wild pigs foreign to the region — face destruction by rifleman as a result of complaints in Boone County that the animals are vicious and potentially dangerous.

Atlas Lynn, a conservation officer with the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, said he has received authorization to destroy the roaming pigs.

Lynn said he has not set a date to organize the hunt.

The presence of the javelinas, usually found in the Southwest, came to light last month when a hunter was reported lost. After finding the pigs, authorities feared the man might have been attacked by the animals.

The Hunter, Ed Nichols, 21, of Florence, has not been found.

Police, however, do not believe he is dead. Two hunters reported seeing a man matching Nichols' description a week later. The man fled.

Obviously, we must either decrease our birthrate or increase our deathrate. The choice is up to us.

DEAR ABBY: My mother, who lives in Utah, came to visit my husband and me for two weeks.

We live in a small apartment with only a double bed in the bedroom and a sofa in the living room.

My husband is 6 ft. 5" and weighs 260, and he couldn't sleep on the sofa. My mother is 72, and has a bad back, so she couldn't sleep on the sofa either.

We didn't want to go to the expense of renting a bed, and we didn't know anyone who could lend us one, so I slept on the sofa and my husband and my mother slept in the double bed. (My mother slept in all her clothes plus my husband's raincoat.)

We have had nothing but criticism from the relatives since this story got around. Do you see anything wrong with this setup?

NEW YORKER

DEAR N.Y.'er: No. What was their beef?

DEAR ABBY: I am a 29-year-old woman who feels as though she has been reborn.

It took me 13 months, but I lost 94 pounds. It has changed my life, Abby. I still consider myself ugly, but at least I'm not fat any more and I can talk to people without feeling ashamed.

Everybody tells me how great I look, except this one person at work. She keeps saying, "You look so sickly and frail. I liked you better the other way. You don't look like yourself. You are TOO thin now." Abby, I burn up like a match when she talks that way. I worked so hard to lose that weight, and for her to put me down just about kills me.

I can't ignore her because we work together and I see her every day. What makes a person so mean?

THIN AND LOVING IT

DEAR THIN: Your co-worker is either incredibly insensitive, or she's not playing with a full deck. (Maybe she's jealous.) Tune her out.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box no. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Brezhnev's Health Puts Focus On Successors

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

A world with more than enough to worry about has new reasons to be seriously ill. Soviet officials keep such things closely to themselves. But recent developments have suggested that in any case Brezhnev has been in some sort of political difficulties.

The Soviet Communist party's general secretary may or may not be seriously ill. Soviet officials keep such things closely to themselves. But recent developments have suggested that in any case Brezhnev has been in some sort of political difficulties.

One way or the other, changes relatively soon in the hierarchy are inevitable if only because of its age. Undoubtedly the leaders recognize this and have been preparing for a transition, so perhaps this time it might take place without violent struggle. Thus, the reports fix world attention on the workings of the Soviet power structure.

At the same time the uncertainty turns global attention to the possible impact on such areas as Soviet-American and Soviet-Chinese relations, the Soviet role in the Middle East and Soviet domestic policy.

In some of these areas Brezhnev seemed recently to encounter trouble with his colleagues. That, coupled with an illness, could place his tenure as top man in question.

Brezhnev has been frustrated in the Middle East by a persistent Egyptian mistrust of Soviet intentions. He was set back, too, by the American trade bill that tied preferential treatment for the Soviet Union to eased restrictions on emigration. Since Brezhnev obviously had approved the "understanding" on that score, the vehement denial of it, laid now to "leading Soviet circles," suggests that Brezhnev may have been sharply criticized.

If Brezhnev goes, for whatever reason, what might succeed him? The Communist party rules the nation. The apparatus that runs the party is headed by a 16-member Politburo whose average age is about 65. Its alternate members and the party secretariat also are overaged by comparison with leading groups in the West.

A formidable government bureaucracy of hundreds of thousands, long in office, runs day to day business of the vast nation of 250 million. This Soviet Establishment is so entrenched as to give the impression that it consciously protects its ranks against younger potential invaders.

The government flows from nearly 90 heavily populated ministries. The cabinet of almost four score ministers and state committee chiefs is headed by a premier, one first deputy and 10 deputy premiers. The average age of all these leaders is, astonishingly, something like 63.

Last year, in a sudden burst of genial expansiveness, Brezhnev let it be known that when he wasn't in town, Mikhail M. Suslov presided at Politburo meetings. If both he and Suslov were absent, Andrei P. Kirilenko would preside.

Brezhnev has been a member of a sort of "troika" with Nikolai V. Podgorny, the "president," and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. Neither of those is a likely candidate to assume the burdens of top party boss. Both are probably close to retirement. Kosygin will be 71 and Podgorny 72 next month.

Suslov, a dour ideologist and holdover from the Stalin era Politburo, is now 73. Thus, attention turns to Kirilenko, himself at 68 the same age as Brezhnev.

If Kirilenko should succeed to the top party position, though, it seems likely it would be with far less power and authority than Brezhnev has been enjoying in his recent years.

Kirilenko might, in fact, represent a sort of caretaker, in a collective leadership arrangement to bridge the gap between older and younger generations of leadership. His background would suggest continuity of Brezhnev's policies, perhaps with even a bit more internal repression than Brezhnev meted out.

By education Kirilenko is a technocrat but his background in ideology has suggested dyed-in-the-wool, old-fashioned Stalinism. Also a member of the secretariat that runs the party, Kirilenko is intimately acquainted with its internal affairs, a plus for him.

Behind the better known figures of the Politburo are some others who are possibilities for the top party job. One is Fyodor D. Kulakov, a Politburo youngster at 57, who is also an agricultural expert, a point in his favor.

Many Ignoring Amnesty Deadline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Presidential Clemency Board, reporting that only 900 of the 100,000 eligible men have applied for clemency, is asking the nation's radio and television stations to broadcast reminders that Jan. 31 is the deadline for the program.

Board Chairman Charles E. Goodell said the main reason so many convicted draft evaders and deserters are not applying is because many don't know they are eligible.

Goodell told a news conference Monday that the board is mailing out to all radio and television stations 30-second and 60-second tape recordings explaining the clemency program and reminding of the deadline. The tapes were made by two board members, retired Marine Gen. Lewis W. Walt and the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh. Radio tapes in Spanish by another board member, Aida Casanas O'Connor, are being sent to Spanish-speaking stations.

"It would be an additional service if your station announcer could do a countdown — i.e., only 14 more days left to apply ... Time is running out," Goodell wrote the station managers in asking them to air the tapes frequently as a free public service.

Goodell said he does not expect President Ford to extend the Jan. 31 deadline, but he conceded that a good response to the broadcast campaign could be an argument for extending it.

Goodell made public the names, but not the hometowns, of 47 men granted pardons or conditional amnesty by Ford last week, the second group acted on. The terms of alternate service ranged from three months to one year.

Goodell said the President so far has followed all the board's recommendations, including rejection of "less than five" applications.

Goodell rejected a suggestion that the program is "a bust." He said the low sign-up rate was the result of eligible persons not getting the word, "mistrust" of the government, confusion and "an obsession" with the draft evaders and deserters in Canada.

Crackdown On DES Use Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government may soon require livestock producers to certify they have withdrawn the use of DES, a cancer-causing growth chemical, from animals prior to selling them to meat packing plants.

According to Agriculture Department officials, there has been an alarming increase in the number of violations in the use of DES in livestock production, mainly involving beef cattle. Consequently, a certification requirement adopted in 1971 may be put into effect again, a spokesman said Tuesday.

The certification rule was first announced Oct. 12, 1971 as an attempt to reduce a growing number of DES contaminations and head off an all-out ban of the chemical. DES, diethylstilbestrol, is a hormone that has been shown to cause cancer when fed to laboratory animals in large doses.

Federal law prohibits any trace of DES in meat products destined for human consumption. Although federal inspectors have found many traces in animal livers over the years, none has been reported in the muscle tissue or red meat of cattle and sheep.

But the 1971 certification procedure did not solve the problem and the government banned use of DES in animal feed as of Jan. 1, 1973. A ban on the use of DES pellets implanted directly in livestock was ordered as of April 27, 1973.

But about a year ago a federal court reversed the DES ban order, clearing the way for its use again. The previous certification regulation, however, was not resumed although the rule remained on the books.

USDA inspectors recently have detected a growing number of DES-tainted animal livers, indicating that producers have not been scrupulous in voluntarily following recommended withdrawal procedures.

According to department scientists, DES residues from feed sources will be naturally eliminated from an animal's body if the chemical is withdrawn at least seven days before slaughter. Implant withdrawal should be at least 120 days before slaughter, they say.

As of Dec. 26, seven DES-contaminated livers were found among 3,050 livers sampled and there have been indications that at least two dozen or so additional livers are undergoing tests as suspected residue carriers.

Although the incidence of DES contamination last year is not considered large by past standards — there were 104 positive findings among 5,116 livers tested in 1972, the last full year of DES approval — officials are concerned that violations may get out of hand if further restrictions are not imposed.

A USDA spokesman said the same view appears to be shared by segments of the livestock industry, meat packers and animal health authorities. But USDA, the spokesman said, would like to see a 14-day withdrawal requirement enforced for feed use of DES, rather than the 7-day rule previously in effect.

The 120-day withdrawal for implanted DES would remain the same as before, the spokesman said. No immediate decision is in sight on the certification issue, the spokesman said.

Indians Seek Own Control Over Future

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — "Indians have always known hard times. Others talk about 7.1 per cent unemployment. Indians, for the most part, have known no employment," says Wendell Chino.

Chino, tribal chairman of the Mescalero Apaches, made the comments Tuesday in opening the third annual National Tribal Chairmen's Association convention, a five-day meeting which is expected to draw some 185 representatives of Indian groups around the nation.

The Mescalero Apache chairman urged that the conference be used as a vehicle to push for a new national policy that would allow Indians to control their own destiny.

"As American Indians, we have been grossly wronged, hurt and abused. But we cannot linger on the past. For too long other people have been telling us what is good for us," he said.

"Let us make America believe that the American Indian is the final arbiter of his own future," said the 50-year-old Chino, chairman of the 2,500-member Mescalero tribe in southern New Mexico for 17 years.

He said any new Indian policy should not try to separate Indians from their land.

"Never before has America found a need for so many of our resources — coal, oil, water, land. But the development of the land and the Indian must go hand in hand," Chino said.

"We must be alert to the moves being made which result in the fragmentation of Indian funds, programs and services."

He said a battle is coming, "not in the fields, but in the halls of Congress. Against the backdrop of uncertainties and the onslaught of the white man, we have maintained our Indian tribes ... and nobody will write us off."

Year-Long 'Pill' Tested

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A birth control capsule that works for a year when put under the skin could eliminate the use of a daily pill, scientists say. The capsule is now being tested in animals.

Researchers at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology say they have developed a system for a long-term contraceptive. Unlike similar plastic capsules that have to be removed when the contraceptive is used up, the new capsule slowly dissolves in the body.

The biodegradable capsules have so far proved 100 per cent effective in rats and dogs, the researchers say. They estimate that testing in humans is three years away, after more extensive animal studies.

The researchers say the capsule, which breaks down and is absorbed by the body like the internal sutures commonly used in surgery, may reduce some of the side effects of standard birth control pills because the total hormone dose over a long period of time is much less than with pills.

The MIT system was developed by a team led by Dr. Paul M. Newberne, professor of nutritional pathology.

Better Locks Foil Palm Springs Thugs

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — A year ago the police in this plush desert resort city decided to lock out burglars.

It's working. At a time when inflation is driving everything up, the crime rate here is going down.

Palm Springs is a monied mecca that attracts burglars and hotel thieves.

It's a favorite watering hole for Hollywood celebrities. Such stars as Frank Sinatra and Bob Hope have homes here. It's the playground for the rich and famous. Dwight D. Eisenhower played golf here when he was President. So did former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Financed by a $32,000 federal grant, Palm Springs' crime prevention program is deceptively simple.

"It's nothing that's overly new," said Police Chief Robert White. "Last January we started inspecting homes so that we could recommend better security against burglars."

Homeowners are shown how to keep burglars out by such means as dead bolt locks and window guards. In some areas, block captains work with the police to keep people informed.

In order to test the program's effectiveness, police set up two middle-class areas for comparison.

In the White Water Country Club area, every home was inspected personally by a member of the Crime Prevention Bureau. In the Racquet Club area, the homes were not inspected.

Burglaries in the White Water area — which was inspected — dropped 69 per cent in 1974 over 1973. Break-ins went from 23 to just seven.

In the Racquet Club area, burglaries jumped 100 per cent. The area had 54 burglaries last year, compared to 27 in 1973.

Warren Harding Dinner Slated

MARION, Ohio (AP) — The Warren G. Harding Day dinner is the new name of the Marion County Republican Club's annual evening event which will be held in early spring this year.

The sponsors changed the name from the Lincoln Day dinner held in February to commemorate Harding, the 29th president, who lived in the city from 1891 to 1921.

Chrysler Sets Price Cuts

NEW YORK (AP) — Chrysler Corp. is preparing to offer customers rebates of $200 to $400 on some of its cars and trucks, the Wall Street Journal said today.

The newspaper said in a story from Detroit that Chrysler plans to announce the plan in advertisements this weekend on the nationally televised Super Bowl football game.

Chrysler won't officially reduce the official "sticker" prices on its cars, the Journal said, but will tell customers that they will get money back from Chrysler on cars they buy or order during the next five weeks or so.

The newspaper said it understands that Chrysler will announce each week the models eligible for the refund.

Chrysler declined to confirm or deny the price cut plan, the Journal said.

SLOW COOKING

Long slow cooking is an excellent way to prepare less tender cuts of meat. With the popularity of slow cookers and the lower temperature-long cooking time method of preparing meals, many homemakers are questioning the safety of holding foods at a low temperature for a long period of time. Specialists at the United States Department of Agriculture in their bulletin "Keeping Foods Safe To Eat", say that the temperature danger zone for food is between 60 and 120 degrees fahrenheit. Temperatures in this zone allow rapid growth of bacteria and production of toxins by some bacteria when food is held at these temperatures for an extended period of time. Between 140 and 165 degrees fahrenheit some bacterial growth occurs and many bacteria survive. Cooking temperatures between 165 and 212 degrees fahrenheit destroy most bacteria. The time required to kill bacteria decreases as cooking temperature increases. Homemakers who use a slow cooker should follow the manufacturer's recommendations contained in the guidebook that comes with the cooker. However, no food should ever be held at the "warm" setting on a slo cooker or an oven for an extended period of time. This recipe for a slow cook stew is baked in the oven for five hours in a tightly covered casserole.

OUR PRICING POLICY

Our customers receive the benefit of the lowest possible prices for the longest period of time possible through our "no price re-mark" policy. Prices of items already on the shelves are not increased although new shipments of the same products may come into the stores at a new higher price.

Lower priced items are moved to the front of the shelves so customers have the opportunity of buying these first. As prices increase, the higher price is stamped only on items used to restock shelves.

Customers immediately benefit from any price decreases. When a new shipment of a product comes into the stores at a new lower price, all items, including those of the shelf marked at a higher price, are marked with the lower price.

Items sold as specials are the only exception to the new pricing policy. Any item that is not sold during the period when it is marked at a special low price is re-marked at the usual selling price.

We feel this policy helps our customers who are concerned about rapidly rising prices.

Anyone who has any questions about our pricing policy may call Betty Brown, Consumer Consultant, at 614-221-5361, or write Betty Brown, c/o Big Bear Stores Co., 770 W. Goodale Blvd., Columbus, Ohio 43212.

Deny Palestinians Have Missiles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lebanon's premier has denied an Israeli charge that Palestinian guerrillas in Lebanon are armed with late-model missiles.

Premier Rashid Solh said the claim by Israeli Defense Minister Shimon Peres on Monday was "baseless." The guerrillas in Lebanon have no such weapons, a statement distributed by the official national news agency said.

Peres told the Israeli Knesset (parliament) that Palestinian troops from Syria had joined the guerrillas in southern Lebanon and brought with them antitank and antiaircraft missiles. However, he did not specify whether the new arrivals were troops of the Syrian army or members of the Saika force of Palestinian guerrillas which the Syrian government sponsors.

The Lebanese premier's statement also denied that any non-Lebanese Arab troops are in his country.

Peres warned Lebanon and Syria that Israel would regard any attempt by Syria "to take a foothold" outside Syrian borders as "the start of a confrontation and the extension of aggression."

Meanwhile, a Lebanese representative at United Nations headquarters in New York filed a protest charging Israel with 423 acts of aggression during the past four weeks. The list included 44 supersonic flights over Lebanese territory, 10 incursions by Israeli warships into Lebanese waters, 347 artillery shellings, 14 machine-gun firings across the border and eight troop raids across the border.

Informed sources in Jerusalem said Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon has delayed a trip to Washington this week for talks with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to permit clarification of positions on further Middle East peace moves. The sources said Allon would go to the United States next week.

Yasir Arafat, head of the Palestine Liberation Organization, told the Paris newspaper Le Monde that his speech to the U.N. General Assembly in November had been distorted.

Arafat said he spoke of his "dream" of changing Israel into a state in which Arabs and Jews would live together. That part of the speech was interpreted as a call for the destruction of Israel, but Arafat told the French paper: "I said I dream — I repeat, dream — of a unified state. Is it a crime to dream? Is it forbidden to imagine the evolution of things in the coming years?"

NOTICE

Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company hereby gives notice that on December 2, 1974 it formally requested The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to approve temporary increases in rates charged for electric service because of an emergency which threatens injury to the business and interests of the public and the company. The company seeks approval to collect additional annual electric revenue of $27,123,000 in the manner described below. If the proposed increase is approved, the temporary additional revenue would be collected until a determination is made of the permanent rate changes requested in the company's Applications in Case No. 74-760-EL-AIR and Case No. 74-813-EL-AIR filed November 6, 1974 and December 2, 1974, respectively, to increase its rates charged for electric service by $50,683,000 based on the test period of the twelve (12) months ended December 31, 1974.

The applications filed in Case No. 74-760-EL-AIR and Case No. 74-813-EL-AIR place before The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio all of the Company's rates, prices and charges for all of its electric service presently under the jurisdiction of this Commission except standard residential and general service small secondary electric service covered by ordinance contracts in the municipalities of Bainbridge, Gallipolis, Manchester, Middleport, Piketon, Seaman, Waverly, West Union and Winchester located outside of Franklin County.

The proposed increase would be obtained by applying a 12 per cent surcharge, exclusive of fuel adjustment amounts, on all present rate schedules applicable to customers whose billings are the subject matter of the application for permanent rate changes requested in Case No. 74-760-EL-AIR and Case No. 74-813-EL-AIR, including the City of Columbus, except the City of Wellston and the municipalities in Franklin County other than the City of Columbus.

In addition, the proposed increase would be obtained by temporarily substituting the rate schedules for standard residential and general service small secondary electric service in the City of Wellston and in all the municipalities in Franklin County, except the City of Columbus, from present Schedules R-S-W, W-J and G-S-I with Schedules R-S and G-S-I in the City of Wellston and from present Schedules R and G-I with Schedules R-F and G-I-F in the applicable municipalities in Franklin County and then applying the proposed 12 per cent surcharge exclusive of fuel adjustment amounts on those increases. These changes and proposed surcharge raise the levels of the rates in those respective municipalities to a level consistent with comparable service in their areas.

Based on the test period of the twelve (12) months ended December 31, 1974, temporary additional annual revenue of $215,218 would be provided from electric energy used in the City of Wellston, $4,559,266 from the municipalities in Franklin County, exclusive of the City of Columbus, and $22,369,275 from the remainder of the company's electric service, including the City of Columbus, being percentage increases of 56.11 per cent, 31.97 per cent and 12 per cent respectively.

On January 20, 1975 at 9:30 a.m., E.S.T. at the offices of The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, 111 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio 43215, a hearing will be held on the proposed temporary increases. Further information may be obtained from The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio or the company.

Duerk To Head Economic Battle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — One of the men who will attempt to make Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes' jobs-and-progress campaign promise a reality is his economic and community development director, James A. Duerk.

Duerk, of Marysville, noted in an interview that in his successful race to unseat Gov. John J. Gilligan, Rhodes emphasized that "hard-hitting industrial development" will be a major concern of the incoming administration.

Duerk said that making projections is always tough, but he added that "Ohio will obviously suffer in some ways" from the nation's spreading recession.

He said that warding off effects of the recession will be a great challenge to the new administration.

Duerk, 44, is a native of Defiance, Ohio and attended Bowling Green State University. He worked as a reporter for the Bowling Green Sentinel-Tribune while in college in 1951 and later worked for the Defiance Crescent-News.

Duerk has a background in public relations and in 1964 became press aide for then-U.S. Rep. Oliver Bolton, R-Mentor.

In 1965 he joined the Republican state headquarters and served as editor of the party's weekly newspaper.

He also served as public relations director during U.S. Rep. Clarence J. Brown Jr.'s successful race for Congress in 1965 and as press aide to William Saxbe during his successful race for the U.S. Senate in 1968.

From 1969 to 1971, Duerk served as press secretary for Rhodes during his second term as governor.

In 1973 he became Saxbe's press aide in the Senate and the following year became Saxbe's confidential assistant when the Senator was named U.S. attorney general by former President Nixon.

Later in 1974, Duerk returned to Ohio and served as a top campaign assistant to Rhodes.

Passenger Pigeon Memorial Slated

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The final roosting place of the pigeon who began a cause is about to become a national shrine.

The Cincinnati Zoo is moving the aviary where Martha, the last reported passenger Pigeon in the world, died in 1914.

The building, which also housed the Carolina Parakeet which became extinct in 1918, is being converted into a museum to commemorate the tragedy of extinction.

When the zoo's aviary was completed in 1878, there was little thought it might be eventually a silent tribute to a lost species. There were more than five billion passenger pigeons. Thirty-six years later, they were all gone.

"Our hunting and game laws began with the passing of the passenger pigeon," said artist John Ruthven, who has helped raise funds for the museum through the sale of prints and an original of his paintings. "People could not believe so plentiful a bird would ever be gone."

The passenger pigeon, labelled as "the most abundant bird in the world" according to zoo director Ed Maruska, was slaughtered by the thousands because of its tastiness.

"It was impossible to shoot your rifle without hitting something," Ruthven said. "In 1878, in a nesting in Michigan there were over a billion birds spotted."

In 1909, a nine-year-old scored what was the last passenger pigeon killed. Even in those final years before extinction, Congressmen were making speeches on how it was impossible that the pigeon could never become extinct.

The museum will feature information on endangered species as well as two empty cages to serve as a memorial to Martha and to the last parakeet.

Harris Rips Oil Firms Over Profits

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Former Oklahoma U.S. Sen. Fred R. Harris, expected to announce as a Democratic presidential candidate in New Hampshire Saturday, on Tuesday attacked oil companies for fighting tax reform and wage increase while he said their profits are going up.

Harris, at a news conference, said the proposed tax increase on gasoline and oil products "shows that giant corporations and the super-rich still think they own the government."

He said profits of the companies have gone up 146 per cent since 1972 and the companies are predicting profits for 1974 of $17 billion.

"They are putting a lot of these bloated profits in real estate, entertainment and department stores, not in finding oil," Harris said.

The former Democratic National Committee chairman announced for the presidency in 1972 but dropped out within a few weeks because of a lack of money.

Harris, 45, quit the Senate in 1972, and he said not being in office made it easier for him to campaign.

OPERATION AWARE, 1975: A&P CUTS FOOD PRICES

1. PRICE CUTS ON STAPLES.

A&P starts the New Year by cutting the price on A&P Brands of staples such as Dry Milk, Beans, Peanut Butter, Mayonnaise, Luncheon Meat, Fish Sticks, Spaghetti, Macaroni, Spaghetti Sauce, Cheese Slices, Frozen Shoestring Potatoes and other items that are important to a family's diet. So now you can get meaningful savings on many frequently purchased items.

2. WEEKLY SPECIALS TOO... IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

Outstanding weekly specials to include meat, fresh fruits and vegetables and grocery items. And when A&P saves you money on meat, that really means something. Because at A&P, you know you're always getting fully matured meat that's cut, trimmed and priced for value. Take our beef, for instance. We sell only one quality of beef at A&P. And it's backed by our unconditional money-back guarantee and our Butcher's Pledge. That's the A&P Butcher's promise to always pack the better side of every cut down. So if you like what you see in the store, you'll love what you see at home.

3. AWARE LIST CONTINUES.

We're continuing our Early Warning System against price increases: The Aware List. Every week we will voluntarily post a list of price increases, such as those received from manufacturers, a full seven days before we actually change our price. That gives you one week to purchase at the old price, subject, of course, to product availability. You'll also find "Be Aware" shelf tags on many frequently purchased items with the day of the price increase right on the tag. Of course, the Aware List won't include perishables like meat, eggs or fresh fruit and vegetables, where markets fluctuate daily, items controlled by law; or advertised specials.

4. CONSUMER PROTECTION POLICY.

We're of course continuing our commitment to making you an Aware Shopper by reminding you of what every A&P store owes you and by informing you of ways to get the most for your money. Look for the signs in A&P stores spelling out all the protection A&P gives you: 1. Guaranteed Satisfaction. 2. Exceptional Value. 3. Low Price with Absolutely No Compromise in Quality. 4. Rain Check Product Availability. 5. Product Freshness Through Open Dating. 6. Consumer Information. 7. Courteous Service. 8. Cleanliness. 9. Safe and Healthy Products. 10. Shopping Convenience. 11. Chamber Of Commerce Directors Hear Report On Proposed YMCA Project

Bob Johnson and Dick Penn of the YMCA fund-raising committee were guests at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors. Harold Hewitt, director of the local YMCA, was also a guest at the meeting and presented narrated slides on the work of a YMCA facility.

The presentation incorporated the need for a new YMCA facility by showing how the present armory facility had been outgrown. Johnson said that by providing a bigger and better facility, the local YMCA could double its membership. The projected cost of the first phase of such a facility is set at $750,000 but that facility would include a swimming pool.

Johnson pointed out that Hewitt had been director of the YMCA since its inception six years ago and although he commended Hewitt for his efforts, he said the need for more space and equipment could not be denied. He continued by saying that presently many people were going out of the county to get services which could be provided within the county.

A long range program which will cost an additional $250,000 to $300,000 will also include a gymnasium and handball courts. Land for the building has been purchased on Nicholas Drive and Johnson said this was an ideal setting since the schools there already had available parking space and other facilities. He said the committee had already contacted city schools superintendent Fritz Jacobs and he believed a mutual benefit with the school system operation could be worked out.

Johnson touched briefly on the funding of the YMCA operation, one third of which comes from the Community Fund.

He said the addition of a swimming pool will place the local YMCA on a completely different plateau but as much as could possibly be done had already been done with the present facility.

Presently, the funding committee has $114,000 in pledges but as Johnson advised the board of directors, these pledges are flexible. He commented that some people who had made initial pledges for this year may look ahead and be able to make matching pledges in the years to come. He said the industries had not yet been contacted for contributions and that most of this pledge amount was from individuals.

County Commissioners Robert Liston and Don Strous were present at the meeting.

Other business of the board of directors included committee reports starting with the membership committee chaired by Jo Ann Brink.

Miss Brink reported that six new members were proposed and two membership renewals had been made. The new members are Montgomery Ward, Wellman Funeral Home, Shawnee Vineyards, Robert's Drive-In, Farthing and Long Attorneys, Dr. John Bowers and E. R. King. Renewing their membership were Scioto Building and Loan Association and Sherwin Williams.

The board approved the membership committee's recommendations.

Dr. Nancy Conrad, chairman of the Health Committee, proposed a public information project which would include the Cancer Society, Heart Fund and other health agencies. She briefed the board of directors on how an article each week in the Herald on each of these agencies could both inform the public and promote better understanding with the various agencies. The information project will be sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce.

Approval was made to allow the Budget and Finance Committee to classify members as to the state of dues policy. The idea of the new structure was introduced by Earl Palm, chairman of that committee.

The new chairman of the Area Development Committee, Richard Gerhardt, advised the board that his committee incorporates the same job as the old Community Appearance Committee except it also includes the preservation of the downtown area in addition to the other activities of the other committee.

Bill Stout, chairman of the Legislative Committee, reported that the committee met Monday and was going to try to meet monthly. Another meeting is scheduled on Feb. 5 with Hal Crater who is a liaison between the state and the National Chamber of Commerce. In March the group is to meet with the county commissioners and will host Myrle Shoemaker and Oakley Collins and their wives at the Ohio Legislative Chamber of Commerce banquet.

He also told of a warning tree method of advising the Chamber members of special legislation which is coming up and asked members who were contacted to respond to their legislators concerning their personal feelings about such legislation.

Retail Merchant Rosemary Linn said the group was planning to stick with similar promotions which have been followed in previous years. She also commented on the Christmas tree committee chaired by Keith Thomerson. The goal of the committee is to have 38 trees.

Larry Plum of the Education Committee reported that his committee is planning to meet with the guidance counselors in the schools to offer resource people for their guidance programs.

It was also reported at the meeting that approximately 40 tickets are still available for the annual meeting.

Major changes in the housing of the area can be expected in the next few years according to Ned Harden, chairman of the City-County Planning Committee. He said that because of the exorbitant prices for one-family housing these days more multi-family structures will be seen.

Chamber president T. D. Van Camp asked Asa Elsea, chairman of the Safety Committee, to think about incorporating the disaster planning into his committee's work.

The meeting was concluded with the board voting to sponsor a seminar planned by the Small Business Administration on Feb. 4 and 5 at the Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational School. The local Chamber and the Chillicothe Chamber of Commerce were asked to co-sponsor the seminar. It is aimed at people who either plan to start a small business or own a small business.

Reye's Syndrome Disease Reported

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Children's Hospital has admitted the first child of the 1974-75 winter season suffering from Reye's Syndrome but do not expect the epidemic of last year.

All 24 of the children suffering the disease survived last year, and researchers at the hospital gained an enormous amount of data on treating the ailment.

The malady, the researchers reported, causes death in about 75 per cent of untreated cases and about 41 per cent of treated cases.

The research team from Children's Hospital and the University of Cincinnati, while treating the children, documented the relationship between the ailment and viruses, specifically Influenza B.

Reye's Syndrome usually starts as a simple flu-like illness followed by vomiting, hallucinating or violent behavior, swelling of the brain, a fatty liver and, if untreated, coma or death.

The research team, headed by Dr. William Schubert and Dr. John C. Partin, reported that Reye's Syndrome attacks the energy producing elements in liver and brain cells called mitochondria.

When this happens, the cells are unable to perform their functions and the organs swell with fat in a way different from other diseases.

"We don't know yet what causes Reye's Syndrome," said Dr. Partin, "but what we have done in Cincinnati is to show that this type of mitochondrial injury is not seen in any other childhood liver disease."

"We can't yet be sure whether this injury is the cause of Reye's Syndrome, or the result of some other factor we don't yet know about. It may be that the virus plus some other factor causes the mitochondrial injury."

They also learned that all the children had been in contact with influenza B, either having it themselves or had been in contact with others who had contracted it, the researchers said.

They noted that both Reye's Syndrome and cases of Influenza B both peaked in mid-February last year. Influenza B, however, is not expected to be a major component of this winter season so another epidemic of Reye's Syndrome is not expected either, the researchers said.

However, they said parents and physicians should be on the alert for such cases and rush children to a doctor when symptoms are recognized.

Of the 42 per cent of women workers who worked full-time in 1973 (50-52 weeks per year) only half earned at least $5,903.

Ohio Energy Commission Approves Emergency Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Emergency Energy Commission has approved a report outlining Ohio's energy program and asked the federal government to pay a $419,300 share of expenses for the current fiscal year.

The money requested of the Federal Energy Administration is to help meet costs in such areas as contingency planning, fuel allocation during the coal strike and informational and organizational expenses.

The state's 35 per cent matching share of the program was put at $238,200 for the fiscal year, ending July 1, with another $301,100 estimated for the last six months of 1975.

In what proved to be one of his final acts as chairman, Donald C. Sweet abstained from the vote to approve the report a few hours after the commission meeting. Sweet was named to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio by Gov. John J. Gilligan.

The commission informally endorsed a resolution urging PUCO to adopt a policy to help minimize the loss of jobs due to natural gas curtailment.

The resolution said this should be done "by more effectively spreading the burden of curtailments from the industrial sector to other sectors, including commercial and residential, that are not currently being curtailed."

The commission backed the resolution after its advisory council disclosed a survey of 100 of Columbia Gas of Ohio's 500 special rate industrial customers.

It showed 20 per cent of the companies with planned or current layoffs due to curtailments of natural gas and another 27 per cent who said they were considering layoffs.

However, under questioning from Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, an advisory council spokesman conceded it was difficult to determine when layoffs were due solely to natural gas curtailment rather than to the overall economic picture.

Noted Doctor Succumbs At 83

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Edward J. McCormick, former president of the American Medical Association, died Tuesday at a local hospital at the age of 83.

McCormick, a surgeon, was association president from 1953 through 1954. He resisted all forms of government control of medicine.

He also gained national prominence as the grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protection Order of Elks in 1938.

McCormick, who retired from active practice 10 years ago but maintained an office until 1970, was a 1915 graduate of St. Louis School of Medicine.

Braves Declaw Lions

By BOB BENSONHAVER
Herald Staff Writer

The Logan Elm Braves declawed the Liberty Union Lions, 74-60, in a fast-paced game at the McDowell Exchange Gym, Tuesday.

Four Logan Elm players hit the double figure bracket with only three of Liberty Union's players scoring double numbers.

The Brave's speed and field shooting were the key factors in the game.

The Braves used a two-one-two and run and shoot offense with a man-on-man and three-two defense.

Shooting 44 per cent from the field, Logan Elm made 32 of 72 shots. Liberty Union made 21 of 54 shots for 38 per cent.

The Lions outscored the Braves at the foul line making 18 of 30 shots for 60 per cent. Logan Elm cleared 10 of 21 shots for 47 per cent at the foul line.

Jeff Reichelderfer lead the Braves with 22 points, eight from the field and six at the line. Scott Pontius stripped the nets for 18 points with nine shots from the field.

Mike Miller scored 12 points with five shots from the field and two at the black stripe.

Matt Martin cleared five shots from the field for 10 points.

Mitch Martin scored six points with three shots; Derek Morris, Steve Rawlins and Scott Allen each made two points.

Rick Underwood lead the Lions with eight shots from the field and five from the line for 21 points; Jeff Wagner scored 13 points with three from the field and seven at the stripe.

Dave Miller hit for four field and two foul shots for 10 points. Greg Taylor netted six points with two field and two foul shots; Ryan Burgoon and Dave Eversole hit for four points each and Kevin Glasspoole for two points.

Reichelderfer and Miller jumped for 11 rebounds each for the Braves, with Mitch Martin grabbing 10. Pontius pulled six rebounds, Morris three, two each for Rawlins and Matt Martin and one each for Allen and Barr.

Wagner pulled 13 rebounds to lead the Lions with Underwood grabbing 12. Liberty Union had 18 turnovers to Logan Elm's 19.

The Braves left the floor with a halftime lead of 21 points. But the Lions were so fired up coming out of the locker room they reduced the Braves lead to nine points at the end of the third period.

Mitch Martin came out to make the first two points of the third period with 7:11 left on the clock. LU's Underwood came right back to make up for Martin's basket.

With a time of 6:11 left in the period, Wagner was fouled by Miller. The Lions made the foul shots and two field shots to bring them within 17 points of the Braves.

The Braves cleared three baskets to widen the lead, 53-32.

The back and forth game continued with the Lions able to gain on Logan Elm by completing foul shots.

While the Lions dug their feet in the ground, the Braves kept running circles around them.

Pontius stripped the nets first in the fourth period with 7:23 left on the clock.

Logan Elm began to run into foul trouble but was able to make a comeback by outshooting the Lions 19 points to 14 points in the fourth period.

The Braves are 6-3 overall and 5-1 in league play. They travel to Fairfield Union Friday.

NCAA Eyes 1-Platoon Football

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association takes up today a proposal to return to one-platoon football—an issue that has generated only lukewarm sentiment and is overwhelmingly opposed by the nation's coaches.

The NCAA continues the business meeting of its 69th convention, which began Monday afternoon with votes taken on only one-fifth of the 151 proposals. Most measures discussed Monday were of a technical nature.

In addition to the return to one-platoon football, the convention delegates also will vote on a resolution indicating whether they want the NCAA committee on women's intercollegiate sports to develop the program in time for this spring's men's championships in track and field and tennis.

The committee also was to study the feasibility of holding national championships in 10 other sports over the next three school years.

David Swank of Oklahoma University, committee chairman, said there was some sentiment among the delegates that a vote be taken on a resolution to see if the convention as a whole approves the idea.

The one-platoon proposal was made by the University of Oregon in an effort to cut down on the rising costs of collegiate athletics because of inflation.

Most delegates, however, believe that other methods such as trimming coaching staffs would be more effective than abolishing the two-platoon system now in use and return to the rules that prevailed prior to 1963.

LE Reserves Nip LU Lions

The reserve Braves were able to outplay Liberty Union in a squeaker, 39-31.

The jayvees kept the small lead throughout the game.

Leading the Braves was Randy Pontius with 13 points. Randy Strous netted 10 points, Mark Skinner scored six points, Chuck Cave had four points and Eric Maxson had three points.

Dave Dean added two points and Mike Patrick one point to aid in the victory.

Scoring for the Lions were Castle with 14 points; Hodge netted eight points; Miller scored seven points and Buchanan with two.

Westfall Frosh Nipped By Adena

Westfall was edged 39-38 by visiting Adena Tuesday.

Harris of Adena led all scorers with 17 points. For Westfall Jeff Mowery scored six, Mike Hurley 12, Shawn McPherson three, Randy Darst nine, Dale Ruoff six and Herb Picklesier.

Westfall was ahead 9-8 at the end of the first quarter, trailed 18-13 at halftime and third quarter Westfall led 26-25.

Westfall has an 0-4 record for the season. Tomorrow the Mustangs travel to Southeastern of Clark County.

Fighting Saints Defeat Cougars, 4-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The key to success in sports, so the theory goes, is to break even on the road and then roll up a winning record at home.

But the Chicago Cougars can't even break even at home.

"Our home record is a brutal 6-10-1," observed Chicago Coach Pat Stapleton Tuesday night after his Cougars dropped a 4-2 decision to the Minnesota Fighting Saints at the Chicago Amphitheatre.

Hawks Defeat Cavaliers; Win 113-112

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Cotton Fitzsimmons likes finishing on top.

His Atlanta Hawks haven't been doing enough of it lately, but Tuesday night was another matter.

"I sure did enjoy winning," said Fitzsimmons, coach of the Hawks, who trimmed the Cleveland Cavaliers 113-112 in overtime behind a career-high 30 points by rookie Tom Henderson.

The first-year backcourtman from Hawaii sank a 15-foot jumper at the buzzer to send the game into overtime, then scored four points in the extra session to help Atlanta to only its third victory in the last 10 National Basketball Association games.

"It was a great lift for our morale," said Fitzsimmons of the victory. "Before the game I told them to take a stand and play the best you can, but I didn't tell them to win. I know my guys are trying, but sometimes they play a little scared."

Elsewhere in the NBA, the Golden State Warriors routed the New Orleans Jazz 136-94, the Chicago Bulls beat the Houston Rockets 106-97, the Buffalo Braves defeated the Los Angeles Lakers 115-107, the Kansas City-Omaha Kings topped the Milwaukee Bucks 108-99 and the Portland Trail Blazers downed the New York Knicks 106-92.

In the only game in the American Basketball Association, the Memphis Sounds beat the Spirits of St. Louis 118-110.

Cardinals Trip Bearcats

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

It was an important game for the Cincinnati Bearcats, but just another game for the Louisville Cardinals.

As a result, the Bearcats played like tigers and the Cardinals were for the birds.

"I wouldn't call this our worst game but I wouldn't say it's our best," said Denny Crum after his lackluster Cardinals got by Cincinnati with just enough effort Tuesday night, 82-74.

Crum pointed out that his third-ranked basketball team was not especially keyed up for the game, which had no bearing on the Missouri Valley Conference race.

"We didn't play too well," said Crum. "But I don't try to get them up for non-league games. The fact that we can win by eight points and play poorly says something—we're not that bad."

"They're an independent and this was a big game for them. You always have a tendency to play better against a highly-ranked team. If they could play that well against the rest of the teams they play, they probably would win them all."

While Louisville was looking ahead to the Missouri Valley Conference race, Cincinnati was looking at Louisville.

"We've been thinking about Louisville for a long time," said Cincinnati Coach Gale Catlett. "Louisville is a fine basketball team. It's hard to say that this is our best game because we lost. When you get satisfied with defeat in this business, you'd better get out. But I wasn't worried about getting the team up."

The contest was the only one involving a ranked team Tuesday night. In other games, Wichita State stunned Long Beach State 75-46; Ohio beat Missouri 78-65; Florida State trimmed the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee 104-82; Columbia beat Kings Point 89-71; Lafayette upset Princeton 73-67; Hardin-Simmons nipped Texas Christian 75-74; Brown whipped Rhode Island 75-66; Centenary beat Arkansas 74-72; Baylor defeated Lamar 79-78 in overtime; Bucknell routed Rochester 105-64; Towson State trimmed Delaware 82-71 and Cleveland State turned back Buffalo 74-63.

In tournament play, Stetson beat American University 71-65 in overtime to win the Hatter Classic in Deland, Fla., and Texas beat South Alabama 80-75 to win the Senior Bowl in Mobile, Ala.

Kenny Anderson Sees Steelers Win

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ken Anderson, pass master of the Cincinnati Bengals, has faced the fierce rush of Super Bowl titans Pittsburgh and Minnesota — and beaten both.

He sees Pittsburgh's "Steel Curtain" defense as the difference in Sunday's National Football League finale.

"I'm going with Pittsburgh, mostly because of their great defense," said Anderson, who has beaten the Steelers twice in the past two seasons and engineered a shocking 27-0 rout of Minnesota in 1973.

Anderson and Miami's Bob Griese are the only two NFL quarterbacks who have beaten both teams in the past two seasons.

He said while most of the attention is usually focused on the Steelers' "great front four," not enough credit has gone to the defensive unit as a whole.

"Pittsburgh's defense is just awful tough to find a weakness in," said the quarterback who set an NFL passing mark for accuracy by hitting 20 of 22 passes in a 17-10 victory over the Steelers.

"They took away our deep stuff and gave us the short passes," he said.

Anderson said the Steelers have the reputation of being mainly a bruising, physical team. But, he said, "you don't lead the NFL by just being physical. They all work together very well."

Anderson is not selling the Vikings short because of Cincinnati's 27-0 runaway a season ago. In fact, he tends to toss out the win because the Vikings invaded Cincinnati a week after clinching their division.

Minnesota lost only twice that year, excluding their 24-7 Super Bowl defeat by Miami.

Anderson noted both clubs make excellent use of the safety valve pass to backups.

"The offense that gets going will win it," he said.

The revival of Pittsburgh's running game, keyed by Franco Harris and Rocky Bleier, and the steady play of quarterback Terry Bradshaw have been the major improvements since their mid-season push, Anderson says.

"They're a lot more consistent now. Terry Bradshaw has just been super his last three games and their running game has really come alive," he said.

Fast Field-Dressing Of Game Necessary

By JAMES F. DAUBEL
Written For The Associated Press

It is said that more fish and game is ruined in the field than in the kitchen.

If that is true, it takes only a pinch of know-how to preserve and prepare most outdoor bounty and make it fit for any table.

Heat spoils meat and taints its taste so the first rule is to cool it.

Field dress all animals and fish by removing entrails as soon as practical after the kill. To dissipate heat, open the body cavity to the air or flush it with cold water or snow.

Dress the game completely as soon as possible thereafter and freeze or refrigerate it.

Both dark meat and fish freeze best in water. Cover the meat in water and freeze it in milk cartons and you can keep it up to a year.

The next hurdle is in the cooking and, as they say, experience is the best teacher of that.

But here are a few tips.

For deep frying fish, nothing beats a beer batter for ease and excellence of taste.

Cut fish in inch-wide strips, dip them in batter and fry them in vegetable oil maintained at 375 degrees.

Make the batter by mixing three quarters cup of beer, three quarters cup pancake mix, one quarter cup flour, one egg, half teaspoon salt and half teaspoon baking powder.

Bluegills and other panfish caught through the ice are particularly delicious in beer batter. For variety, serve the fish with red shrimp sauce.

There are all kinds of waterfowl recipes, many of them bad. Because I like duck, I always avoid recipes that recommend soaking them in salt water or preparing them in pungent sauces. Both methods remove or mask the true flavor.

I advocate simple recipes for fowl. Taste the honest meat flavor. If it disagrees with you, or is too strong to suit you, adapt sauces to your liking in future preparations.

Upland birds should be picked, leaving the skin intact. Since wild birds tend to be dry, roast them under strips of pork fat.

Roast waterfowl under high heat. An average size mallard, for example, can take 30 minutes at 500 degrees. Then lower the heat to 300 degrees for an additional 15 minutes.

If duck meat does not run slightly pink when pricked it will be dry and tasteless.

To complement the taste of duck without hiding it, stuff the cavity with an onion or quartered orange and baste the bird several times with a boiled mixture of one cup orange juice, one tablespoon butter and one tablespoon brown sugar.

Miller Set To Defend Phoenix Title

PHOENIX (AP) — Johnny Miller stopped short of predicting a victory in defense of his Phoenix Open Golf crown, but had a word of warning for his outstanding field of opponents in this $150,000 event that opens the 1975 tour.

"I don't think that last season was really a fluke," he said. "They're gonna have to put up with me for a long time."

"Right now I'm playing as good as I can play."

That was good enough to acquire eight American tournament titles, a record moneywinning accumulation and Golfer of the Year honors for Miller in 1974.

Miller made the comments before a practice round Wednesday over the relatively short, flat Phoenix Country Club course—scene of the season's kickoff tournament that runs Thursday through Sunday.

As the inaugural event, the Phoenix tournament has attracted the strongest field in its history.

Only Jack Nicklaus is missing from the top 15 money winners from 1974. South Africa's Gary Player, who traditionally doesn't begin his American season for another two months, and 45-year-old Arnold Palmer are the only other major absentees from the 150-man field.

Miller's major opposition includes PGA champion Lee Trevino and four others who have won more than $1 million in career prize money—Billy Casper, Tom Weiskopf, Gene Littler and Australian Bruce Crampton.

Other standouts include Hubert Green, Buddy Allin, Dave Stockton and Bobby Nichols, each a multiple winner last year.

Tarkenton Stirs Up Super Bowl Broth

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The marshmallow mood of Super Bowl IX, and perhaps a touch of Minnesota's confidence as well, was burned around the edges Tuesday when quarterback Fran Tarkenton lit into a couple of 1974's also-rans.

Tarkenton lambasted Oakland Raiders' quarterback Ken Stabler and tossed in Miami Dolphins wide receiver Paul Warfield for good measure, taking umbrage at the two stars who took some verbal swipes at both the Vikings and their Sunday foes, the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Tarkenton's blast woke up this slumbering Super Bowl city, whose primary preoccupation in the preceding 24 hours had been the severity—or lack of it—of a viral infection which sent Pittsburgh defensive end Dwight White to a hospital.

White, incidentally, in the hospital a third night as a precautionary measure, was expected to be back at the Steelers' camp today, on his way to a recovery that would have him joining his defensive linemen in storming Tarkenton when the teams meet in Tulane Stadium for the National Football League championship.

A few hours after Tarkenton's verbal shots, the Vikings suffered a physical one when starting left tackle Charles Goodrum pulled a muscle in his right thigh, an injury that was expected to keep him out of the contest.

But the blow isn't considered serious. Replacing Goodrum will be Grady Alderman, a 15-year veteran who started the Vikings' two other Super Bowl games.

And that would send Alderman against either White or, possibly, his replacement, Steve Furness.

Tarkenton provided the first Super Bowl controversy since exactly a year ago, when his coach, Bud Grant, complained about the seedy conditions of the Vikings' practice facilities (remember the sparrows in the showers?) at Houston, scene of the 1974 title game.

Warfield reportedly said a half-healthy Miami squad could beat either the Steelers or the Vikings. Stabler, meanwhile, suggested that the NFL's two best teams—one of them Oakland—weren't playing for the title.

"I read that Stabler and Warfield said that the best teams aren't here," Tarkenton fumed. "Evidently they were not the rules of the game before the game started."

"I think that Mr. Rozelle said the rules were that, in order to win and get a chance at the Super Bowl, you had to make the playoffs," Tarkenton said, referring to NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle. "And then the rules were that you had to win the first playoff game and then the (conference) championship."

"And evidently nobody told Stabler that because he thinks Oakland is the best team."

The Raiders were the best team—until Dec. 29. They had a 12-2 regular-season record, tops in the league, and knocked off the defending Super Bowl champion Dolphins 28-26 in the first round of the playoffs, with Stabler throwing four touchdown passes.

But they became only secondbest to the Steelers in the American Conference championship, losing 24-13 with Pittsburgh intercepting three of Stabler's passes and turning two of them into touchdowns.

Kentucky State Stays Atop Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Whether you are riding a racehorse or the crest of your basketball team's winning streak, it's wise to watch out for the other guy.

The Kentucky State Thoroughbreds, 8-0 after Monday night's 78-69 victory over Wabash, again were voted the No. 1 college division basketball team in The Associated Press weekly poll and Coach Lucias Mitchell feels it's because he's driving his team "defensively."

"Defense is what counts," says Mitchell, "and my team has become extremely effective. We block well and force the other guys to take bad shots."

"Now we have a new fella, Ross Smith, in the starting lineup and he's gonna be fantastic. He started for the first time on Monday night and he got 11 rebounds, blocked seven shots and scored 12 points. He benched Andre Hampton, our seven-footer!"

The 6-foot-8 Smith, a sophomore transfer from Lincoln U., still trails the average performance of 6-foot-7 star forward Gerald Cunningham, who is averaging 16 rebounds and 25 points per game.

Kentucky State retained the top spot in the rankings for the fourth week with 22 first-place votes and 405 points.

The New Orleans Privateers, 9-0, climbed from fourth to second place on the strength of three straight victories last week, receiving seven firstplace votes and 285 points from a nationwide panel of sportswriters and broadcasters. The Privateers defeated Wabash 106-80, Xavier, La. 126-71 and Northwest Oklahoma 104-63.

Gardner-Webb, No. 2 a week ago, fell to third place with three first-place votes and 242 points. The Bulldogs bowed to Elon 75-67, then recovered to trample Campbellsville 101-80.

Jackson State rose from fifth place to fourth after blitzing Southern University of New Orleans 102-78, collecting one first-place vote and 193 points. Next was Eastern Illinois, up from sixth place, with 181 points.

Tennessee-Chatanooga slipped three places to sixth following its 103-87 loss to South Florida, drawing 146 points.

Old Dominion remained No. 7, attracting 115 points for a 61-55 decision over William & Mary. Bentley, idle last week, climbed from ninth to eighth place in the rankings, drawing 110 points. Morgan State, also inactive, dropped a notch to ninth with 62 points.

The voters awarded 48 points to Southern University, preserving its 10th-ranked status. Southern, 9-0, slammed Mt. Scenario 112-53 before being trounced by Jackson State.

Rounding out the Top 15 were Armstrong State, formerly 13th; Assumption, down from 11th after losing to Holy Cross 107-88; newcomer Augustana, S.D.; Youngstown and Cameron. Alcor dropped from the rankings.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Strength of purpose, ingenuity and a thorough knowledge of your ground will be needed now. Put first things FIRST, and don't engage in new undertakings without careful study.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Gains, both large and small, dominate this day's picture. But you will have to work for them, of course. Also be judicious in deciding just HOW you will invest money — and energies!

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Planetary influences indicate some pressure in business matters, but remain steadfast and hopeful. You CAN advance. Personal affairs promise to be interesting.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): You may not be able to produce the results you wish immediately, but be patient! You have more at work for you than you realize. Use skills smartly!

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): You have a hankering to do something in a way which is not supported by logic. Better think about consequences — to yourself and others. Be alert, perceptive.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Enthusiasm! This may be the factor needed to keep day out of a rut, free from aggravations. Day also requires understanding of others' needs.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Think before taking off in any direction. Aggressive action needed in some areas, a slower pace in others. The Libran's fine sense of balance should help you in deciding.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): This is a time to take vigorous action in all matters which can further your advancement. Don't wait for the "breaks" to come. Make your own!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 21): With your own personality and persuasiveness, you can be an effective influence in places where stumbling blocks have been put up. Planetary influences are fine!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Avoid delays in matters which, while not pressing, should nevertheless be handled before they clutter your program. General progress indicated.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Above-average opportunities indicated, but you may have to seek out some for yourself. It will be possible now to obtain cooperation which you could not get in the past.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Double-check on plans. Listen keenly during discussions: Be alert to faults in reasoning — whether your own or another's; and DO be tactful in offering opinions.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with great ambition and a magnetic personality. You set lofty goals for yourself and usually achieve them because you are industrious, persevering, highly progressive in your methods and extremely optimistic. There's very little that deters the well-developed Capricornian. You could become a top-flight business executive, lawyer, writer, statesman, entertainer or scientist — depending on your leanings and education, of course. Your potentials are endless.

Two Men Granted Probation

Two men were released from penitentiary sentences this morning in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court. During the weekly session of court, three other men were sentenced.

Motions for release from prison terms under the shock probation statute were granted by Judge William Ammer to Lester Thimmes and Francis Boyle. Both men were released and then placed on probation for three years.

Thimmes was convicted earlier for possession of drugs and also for illegal dispensing of drugs.

Also appearing was Michael Sechler, North Carolina. He was charged here with escape and extradition papers had been received from the state of North Carolina requesting his return to that state for processing.

Sechler entered a negotiated plea of guilty to a lesser charge of attempted escape which is classified as a misdemeanor. Judge Ammer sentenced him to six months in the county jail and then gave him credit for time already spent in the jail. After suspending the remainder of the jail term, the judge then ordered Sechler returned to the North Carolina authorities.

Coming before the court for sentencing on breaking and entering Dr. Hosler's office in Ashville and possession of hallucinogens was Wendell Kelton. He was sentenced to two concurrent terms of six months to five years each in the Mansfield Reformatory for Men. The court suspended the prison terms and placed Kelton on probation for three years.

A final appearance for the day was made by Pat Streitenberger, Route 1, Kingston. Streitenberger was charged with four bad check charges. Judge Ammer sentenced him to terms of six months to five years at the Mansfield Reformatory on each of the four counts and then ordered the sentences to run concurrently.

School Adkins spent four years in the United State Air Force as a medical equipment technician. He received his undergraduate degree in psychology from Kenyon College and his juris doctor degree from the University of Cincinnati. He was admitted into practice in the state of Ohio in November, 1973, and went to practice in the Federal District Court in Cincinnati in December of that year.

Adkins returned to Circleville in April, 1974, and opened his office at 137 E. Main St.

While they were in Cincinnati, Mrs. Adkins worked as a program coordinator for the continuing medical education program of the College of Medicine with the University of Cincinnati. In this position, she arranged course programs for graduate physicians and surgeons. She now serves as her husband's secretary. Adkins said both he and his wife were happy to be back in the area.

Several other members of the Adkins family have been active in the legal profession. The prosecutor's grandfather, Judge Joseph W. Adkins, was Pickaway County Common Pleas Court judge during the '30's. An uncle, Joe Adkins, still maintains a limited law practice here in Circleville. Two of John's cousins, the late George Adkins and his son Paul Adkins, were both practicing attorneys.

In addition to his law practice and the prosecutor's position, Adkins is very active in the Emergency Medical Team which is starting in the area. He serves as president of that group.

Guest Speakers Scheduled For PCAHC Meeting

Guest speakers are scheduled to address the 7:30 p.m. Tuesday meeting of Pickaway County Association for Handicapped Citizens at Brooks Yates School.

Speakers are Mrs. Phyllis Emory, chief of Client Protective Services and Attorney Lloyd Moyer, legal specialist for the Office of Protective Service of Ohio. They will discuss roles of protective services including rights of mentally retarded and developmentally disabled. Both Mrs. Emory and Mr. Moyer ask those attending to have questions ready to discuss following their talks.

Armco Chief Sees Upswing

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite severe economic pressures, all is not gloomy in the steel business, according to the chairman of one of the world's largest steel producers.

William Verity, chairman of the board of Armco Steel Corp., said experts in his company are hopeful of an upswing in 1975.

"We certainly aren't looking upon our steel group as a disaster area," Verity said. His remarks were prepared for delivery Tuesday before a security analyst group.

Verity said capacity level production has continued at several plants supplying products for energy, heavy construction, ship building and agricultural markets.

He said flat rolled production will remain down at least through the second quarter, but will hopefully rebound in 1975.

Armco economists foresee a 13 per cent decline in industrywide steel shipments for the year.

Contributing factors for the lag are likely to be found in slumping areas such as appliance, automotive and housing industries. The liquidation of inventories by steel customers has hurt too, he said.

But the major "negative factors for the year," Verity said, will be the still-rising costs of raw materials, labor and services and the combination of shortages and greater expense for energy.

"Sharp reductions this month in the supply of natural gas have already limited production at several of our steel plants and threatens our capacity of tubular products for oil and gas drilling," he said.

Growing demands for more oil, gas drilling rigs and supporting equipment have led to expansion by Armco's enterprise group in manufacturing plants at Gainesville and Houston, Tex., and Torrance, Calif.

Boston Schools Reopened Under Heavy Police Guard

BOSTON (AP) — Classes resumed at the South Boston High school complex without incident today as hundreds of police stood by to ensure the safety of children.

An estimated 300 to 400 white pupils and between 50 and 75 black children entered the schools for classes under the protection of about 400 state, metropolitan and local police officers.

Pupils passed through a metal detector before entering the schools. Only pupils and newsmen were allowed in the vicinity of the school by police, who stood watch at or along approach routes to the educational complex.

All four schools in the complex had been closed since an outbreak of racial violence Dec. 11.

The extra police were called out by the state's Public Safety Department in an effort to ensure the safety of children bused to class.

Most of the 400 state, metropolitan and local officers were assigned to South Boston High or routes leading to the school.

South Boston High and three companion buildings were closed Dec. 11 after a white student was stabbed, allegedly by a black. The incident led to an angry confrontation between white parents and police.

The schools have been plagued by sporadic outbreaks of violence since they opened for the fall term under a partial desegregation order that requires the busing of about 18,000 of the city's 87,000 students.

South Boston High is in a white neighborhood. The complex includes two annexes and Roxbury High School, which is in a black area.

Authorities said 100 state troopers would be on duty inside South Boston High, accompanied by local police support units.

U.S. District Court Judge W. Arthur Garrity Jr., at the same time, prepared to review a new integration resolution passed Tuesday by the Boston School Committee.

The resolution calls for the prompt submission to Garrity of an integration plan which would exclude forced busing. School Department spokesmen said it would take about two weeks to draft such a plan.

Three committeemen who voted to reject an earlier desegregation plan and were later held in contempt by Garrity for their action approved the new resolution. The committee's decision barely beat a 5 p.m. deadline set by the judge.

It was not known whether Garrity would accept the proposed plan.

John J. McDonough, chairman of the school committee, and committeemen John Kerrigan and Paul Ellison voted earlier against a proposal calling for the busing of about 35,000 of the city's 87,000 pupils.

The reopening of the high school complex was ordered last weekend by School Supt. William J. Leary.

Although Police Commissioner Robert diGrazia had warned that no amount of police protection could guarantee the safety of students, Leary denied requests that the four schools be closed for the school year.

Auto Lands On Porch, Driver Cited

Circleville Policeman Jim Francis cited twenty-seven-year-old Stanley F. Fausnaugh, Kingston, driving while intoxicated, when he was involved in a single-car accident, 9:33 p.m. Tuesday.

Eastbound on Ohio Street, Fausnaugh lost control of his auto skidding off the street into the front yard of 682 E. Ohio St.

The auto rolled onto the passenger's side coming to rest on the front porch of the house, owned by Harold Huffer.

Fausnaugh was treated and released from Berger Hospital for injuries.

Fire Causes $40,000 Damage

The cause of a $40,000 barn fire occurring 11:50 a.m. Tuesday on Perrill Road, is undetermined today, according to Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy James Fite.

Fite responded to the call reported by Mrs. Walter Kuhlwein, owner of the barn.

Arriving at the scene, Fite found the outside of the barn completely engulfed in flames. Harrison and Bloom Twp. Fire Departments arrived at the scene shortly after Deputy Fite.

The barn and contents were listed as a total loss.
